

IS RHODES BLUFFING?

London Papers Comment on the Speech Recently Delivered by the Premier of Cape Colony.

His Threat That the Colonies Would Deal Elsewhere Not Very Pleasing to John Bull.

The Westminster Gazette Declares That His Remarks Were Indiscreet and His Hints a Bluff.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting upon the speech made by Cecil Rhodes, premier of Cape Colony and chairman of the British South Africa company, at the banquet given in his honor at Cape Town, says that Mr. Rhodes has the reputation of being judicious. He was indiscreet when he said that the result of the campaign against the Matabele had realized an old project of his company.

The declaration that Lobengula had been forced into the war, and the threat that the colonies would deal elsewhere if the crown did not recognize its duties to them, ought not to have emanated from the colonial premier. His hints are only a bluff.

The Westminster Gazette says: "Let Mr. Rhodes blaze away at his indiscreet, but why should he treat the outcry of Mr. Labouchere and his little band, who did not dare to bring about a division of the house of commons on the Matabele land question, as if they represent the views of the government?"

AN APOLOGY WAS GIVEN.

The German Flag Saluted by the Brazilian Authorities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A Herald special from Rio says: A German boat from the warship Alexandria was fired on by government troops at the coal depot on Mocangué island on Dec. 22. The commander of the Alexandria, after consultation with the German minister at Rio, demanded an apology from the government and a salute to the German flag.

This apology was given on Dec. 26 and a salute was fired by Fort Santa Cruz. The official firing of the salute, which was the original firing of the salute, was considered in Rio to be a proof of their present neutrality and a determination to let neither side take liberties with the German flag.

KILLED BY A SENTINEL.

Gen. Williams Tried to Escape From Bonilla's Guards.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald's Managua, Nicaragua, special says: Gen. Williams, who was taken prisoner when the town of Choluteca, in Honduras, was captured on Jan. 3, by Bonilla's troops, tried to escape yesterday and was killed by a sentinel. Gen. Ortiz has sent a body of troops to capture Ampala, a port of entry of Honduras, on the Pacific coast.

Foreign residents here have asked the United States minister that the warship Ranger, now at Corinto, Nicaragua, may go to Ampala at once to protect their interests.

Chicago Pawnshop Robbed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Three men entered the pawnshop of Stanley Greenburg at 55 West Randolph street, at 8:30 this morning and bound and gagged Greenburg's nephew, who was in charge of the store. They then robbed the safe and show cases and it is claimed by Greenburg, secured about $10,000 worth of plunder. The police claim, however, that the pawnbroker's loss is not more than $500.

Was Frozen to Death.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The cold weather continues today. The thermometer registers 10 degrees of frost. The body of a woman who had frozen to death during the night was found this morning. There has been a heavy snow fall at Wimbledon, and in some places the drifts are four feet deep.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical forces of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health.

The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by fatigue, over-exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving it consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organs instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning the nerve fluid.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the universal remedy for all nervous and many other difficult diseases, originates from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the world.

Restorative Nerve cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates and other dangerous drugs, and is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medicine Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

ASSAULTED TWO CHILDREN.

One Little Girl Died From the Effects of the Injury.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Louis Matier, of the South Side, reported to Police Inspector Kelly yesterday that his daughter, 3½ years of age, had died Saturday from the effects of a criminal assault committed by John Campbell, 52 years old, who was arrested on Wednesday last and is in jail for committing a similar assault upon a 10-year-old daughter of Matier.

The coroner is making a thorough investigation. Campbell, it seems, came to Matier's home sick and homeless. He was cared for, recovered and went to work, living with the Matier family and became a favorite with the children. He was placed in care of them when the parents were absent. When arrested the neighbors tried to mob him, and were with difficulty restrained by the arresting officers.

BURNED IN A STOVE.

A Young Woman Charged With Cremating a Babe.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Jan. 8.—The police authorities in this city yesterday charged Miss Clara Yoe with having given birth to an illegitimate child and then burning the body in a stove. The story is that on Dec. 21 the girl gave birth to a child, the father of which she says is a young man in Galesburg, Ill. The birth occurred at the house of Ella Sailor. Shortly after the birth the Sailor woman asked Miss Yoe what she wanted done with the child, which the woman reported had died. It was decided to burn it up, and so the body was thrown in the stove and cremated. The police have some of the charred remains of the infant as evidence of the crime.

COULD STAND IT NO LONGER.

Jealousy Caused One Chicago Woman to Shoot Another.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Inspired by jealousy Mrs. Maud Bond, of No. 4 Oswego street, early yesterday morning shot Mrs. Mary Gardner at the latter's home, 705 West Chicago avenue. Three bullets took effect and Mrs. Gardner's condition is reported by the hospital physicians as critical. Mrs. Bond said, when placed under arrest, that she intended to kill Mrs. Gardner because she had come between her and her husband. The affections of her husband, she claimed, had become estranged from her ever since his acquaintance with Mrs. Gardner began and she could stand it no longer.

A Florida Villain.

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 8.—There is likely to be a lynching here if the courts do not take prompt action. An old shoemaker named Frazer was arrested about midnight charged with criminally assaulting five little girls from 10 to 11 years old, whom he enticed into his shop with gifts of money.

One of the girls confessed to her mother, who had been suspicious since Wednesday of something wrong and was endeavoring to gain proof. The child's father, F. L. Clinton, at once informed the police and Frazer was arrested without a warrant.

The Warina Blunder.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Times says: "While it is quite plain that the Warina affair was caused by a pure blunder, it seems equally clear that the blame must rest entirely with Lieut. Maritz, who commanded the Senegalese. Every body must feel sincere pity for the unlucky young officer, but it is quite certain that he had no business to be there."

Was Never Buried.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Jan. 8.—The grave of Frank Johnson, who was hanged in this city Nov. 21, was opened by the board of health and the coffin found to contain nothing but rubbish. It is believed that the body was never buried, but sent to the state university at Iowa City. The undertakers will, perhaps, be prosecuted.

Twins Smothered.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Jane and Willie Baskin, twins, three months old, were smothered in their crib early yesterday morning. The father and mother are Poles and reside at Brookdock. The babies were both awake early, and the mother nursed them to sleep again and when she awoke at 7 o'clock both were dead. She had wrapped the blankets too tightly around them.

Charged With Fraud.

DENVER, Jan. 8.—John Lazell, of the Peoria Land company, of Peoria, Ill., swore out a warrant Saturday night for the arrest of Jerry C. Green on the charge of defrauding him by selling him two lots which had already been sold to another. Mr. Green is a prominent real estate dealer and an alderman in the Highland.

Is a Defaulter.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Jan. 8.—Officials of the Bennington & Rutland railroad have been busy all the week examining the accounts of Freight Agent Chase Mattison, who left here suddenly about two weeks ago. The result of their investigation shows Mattison to be a defaulter for probably several thousand dollars.

Fatal Fall of Coal.

CENTERTVILLE, Iowa, Jan. 8.—Harlan Richards, a prominent politician and mine owner of this city, was fatally injured while inspecting his mine near this city Saturday afternoon by a fall of coal. John Foster, a miner, was instantly killed.

A Bicycle Race.

DELAY WILL EXHAUST

Andrew Carnegie Urges That the Tariff Question Should be Settled at an Early Date.

Six Months' Discussion of the Wilson Bill Would Mean Six Months' Stagnation in Business.

He Urges Republican Senators to Co-operate With Senators Who Wish to Amend the Bill.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Tribune publishes the following letter from Mr. Andrew Carnegie under date of Jan. 3:

To the Editor of the Tribune: Upon the eve of sailing I should like to say a few words to my fellow manufacturers upon the position of the tariff question. I confess that I had some hopes that President Cleveland with his usual good judgment would realize the situation and decide, that owing to existing conditions the nation, as a patient, is not in a condition to undergo a surgical operation, even from the point of view of those who think that an operation is required for its permanent health. This has not been done, and the patient is to be operated upon immediately.

Whatever difference of opinion may exist as to the wisdom of this decision all will agree that "if I were done, when I do then I were well that I were done quickly." Every day's delay will alarm and exhaust the patient. Six months' discussion of the Wilson bill with its varying fortunes means six months of stagnation in business, and perhaps such a brood of failures as we have not yet seen. Rather than encounter this I believe the Democratic party would make reasonable modifications in the Wilson bill. There are quite enough Democratic senators who would unite with the Republicans upon the platform of moderate concessions and the danger to the peace of the country, in my opinion lies chiefly in the fact that some Republican senators may refuse to co-operate with these. The question with some will naturally be: "Is it good party policy?"

I do not assume to speak for the manufacturers of the United States, but I know I speak for some of them when I respectfully urge that it would be infinitely better to have a moderately satisfactory tariff passed by the Democratic party, than even a more satisfactory bill passed by the Republican party. It must be acknowledged that a large number of the "people have been led to believe that the present tariff is unjust; that it favors the few at the expense of the many. Employers and employed have been set at variance and much ill-feeling has been aroused. It is not a sufficient answer to say that this faction is groundless. It is sufficient that it exists, and what I wish to submit to my brother senators is that the first consideration should be the total obliteration of this dissatisfaction.

Is it not far better for manufacturers, as a class, to have a tariff which is not so objectionable to the public and for which it is responsible? Should the Democratic party pass a tariff bill, it will be its own work, and it will be stopped from attack, as made for the general interest of the nation. The question would be removed from politics for many years. The party who made it could not attack it, and the other party would have no disposition to do so.

I submit that it is far better to obtain a moderate Democratic tariff bill, securing stability and permanence, satisfactory to all, rather than a high protective bill passed by the Republican party and certain to be the object of continual political attack. We all know that uncertainty in regard to the import duties is ruinous to our interests.

Partisanship is all very well, but when the question before us, as we all believe, involves the prosperity of our country, the party which should be allowed to prevent a settlement which, if not all that could be wished, would be more desirable under the circumstances, I am not much inclined to believe that it is in the power of the Republicans in the senate to obtain the necessary modifications required by the Wilson bill to make it one such as our industrial system can adapt itself to, and prosper under. The position that the Republican party takes as to its duty to support President Cleveland's silver policy I believe to be its duty to take in regard to the tariff.

What seems most desirable in the interests of manufacturers of the United States is that a tariff bill should be passed by the Democratic party, and thereby the question of the tariff, the "robber tariff" exists in the broad domain of the republic cannot remain in the mind of the most ignorant citizen. I for one am quite ready to accept greatly reduced duties, judiciously framed, to accomplish this result. Yours very truly, ANDREW CARNEGIE.

AN AERONAUT INJURED.

The Parachute Dropped With Great Rapidity and Struck a Tree.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 8.—Miss Emma Robbins, the widely known fatal accident here yesterday. She has been giving Sunday afternoon ascents here for some time, and yesterday afternoon started on her usual voyage from San Pedro park. A few balloons rose to a height of about 2000 feet when Miss Robbins let herself drop with the parachute. The parachute opened but the wind carried it downward with great rapidity, and it struck a large tree with terrific force. Miss Robbins' right leg was broken and she received internal injuries.

There Was No Bribery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. M. B. Curtis has voluntarily traveled from New York to San Francisco to give evidence in the case of alleged jury bribery, wherein Frank McManus and Ed Dunne are charged with having asked for $2500 for having fixed Jurymen McFarlane. It is understood that testimony will be that they made a demand for the $2500 but did not get it, and that nothing in the shape of bribery had anything to do with her husband's acquittal.

THE MODUS VIVENDI RENEWED.

Another Agreement in Regard to Bering Sea Fisheries.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald's Ottawa, Ont., special says: Earl Aberdeen received an official dispatch from Lord Kipon, the lord secretary of state, notifying the Canadian government that her majesty's government has agreed with the government of Russia for the renewal of the modus vivendi in the matter of the Bering sea fisheries until further notice on the understanding that vessels of the United States are subject to similar restrictions.

The modus vivendi of last year established a protected zone thirty miles around the Russian seal islands and provided that British sealing vessels captured within this belt should be ordered to Yokohama for trial by the British authorities. When negotiations were opened up for renewal of this arrangement for 1894, the British authorities, at the suggestion of the Canadian government, replied that the proposal would be acceptable, provided the United States vessels were also included in the proposed restrictions.

The decision of the Paris tribunal adverse to the Russian and American contention of exclusive jurisdiction rendered it necessary, according to the Canadian views, that the United States should become a party to the arrangement, otherwise the modus vivendi could not be applied to Americans sealing within the thirty-mile zone, provided they respected the three-mile limit.

MITCHELL WANTS TO FIGHT.

Says He Will Go to Any Reasonable Length to Meet Corbett.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A special from St. Augustine, Fla., to Daily America says: Charley Mitchell emphatically denied yesterday that he had ever received a letter from Jim Corbett proposing to hold the fight in private with only those present who happened to be there. "Heaven knows I am willing to fight as Corbett is," said Mitchell, "and I will go to any reasonable length to meet him. I simply want to know where I am to fight, that's all."

Sheriff Perry was introduced to Mitchell yesterday, and the course of their conversation was said: "Mitchell, I am afraid you are not going to fight down here, not in St. John's county at least." The Englishman laughed, but made no comment.

Several hours after the finding of the body, Eugene Byars, a cousin of the dead man and a desperate character, visited the undertaker's shop and identified the body. Byars was drunk and did much talking he was at once arrested on suspicion.

WEST DULUTH SMILES

The People of West Duluth are Well Pleased at the Action of Ex-Treasurer Johnson.

They Claim He Did Not Exceed His Authority and It Was a Good Thing.

All Orders That Were Presented Were Cashied and no Preferences Given to Any Persons.

West Duluth people are generally well pleased over the course taken by ex-Treasurer Johnson in the disbursement of the bond money. One prominent business man said this morning that even if Johnson had overstepped the bounds of his authority, the money belonged to West Duluth and was disbursed in accordance with the purpose for which it was raised. He said that there were a great many West Duluth people who had held orders for several months and they were justly entitled to the money instead of having it taken to Duluth, as in the case of Lakeside, and used in paying off Duluth orders. The statement that Johnson gave preference to certain contractors is denied and the fact stated that every order was paid upon presentation until stopped by the Duluth authorities. No one doubts here but that Johnson acted in good faith and supposed that until an accounting had been made with Treasurer Voss he was authorized to dispose of the village money as heretofore. After deducting $40,000 for the payment of bonds already due, the remaining sum was left on deposit at the Manufacturers' bank, and it is understood was all paid out parties who did not present their claims. Today Johnson and the bank clerks were busy checking up accounts and preparing a balance sheet, under the watchful eye of one or two Duluth officials, to be turned over to the city treasurer.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 8.—An area of high barometer overspreads the country from the central and northern Rocky mountains, plains regions to the Ohio valley and the lakes, the pressure being highest to the north of Duluth, where it is about eight-tenths of an inch since yesterday morning.
It is snowing this morning in Montana; where fair clear weather prevails.
In Eastern Montana and the Dakotas the temperature has risen slightly to the northwest of Duluth it has fallen 10 to 20 degrees; in Minnesota and Wisconsin the changes have been slight since the cold wave of Saturday night.Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 41 degrees below zero; maximum yesterday, 7 degrees above zero; minimum last night, 16 degrees below zero; minimum Saturday night 11 degrees below zero.Duluth, Jan. 8.—Local forecast until 5 p. m. tomorrow: Continued cold; fair weather; light northwest wind.

JAMES KENNELLY.

Local Forecaster.

The Pioneer Fuel company sells the best grades of coal, and from the low prices now in effect give liberal discounts for cash and make prompt deliveries. Office, 20 West Superior street.WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Forecast until 5 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Fair, followed by snow flurries in northwest portion; continued low temperature; variable winds. For Wisconsin: Fair; continued low temperature; colder in eastern portion; light variable winds.

Opposition Increasing.

The attempt made in the Democratic caucus Friday night to whip into line the congressmen who are kicking against various provisions of the Wilson tariff bill does not appear to have succeeded.
The dissatisfaction among the Democratic members is strong and it is increasing.There are many representatives who are more anxious to secure petty offices for their Democratic friends than they are to represent the wishes and interests of their constituents and they, of course, will vote for immediate consideration of the bill and will swallow the disagreeable dose to please the administration. But all the Democrats in congress are not cast in that mold. There are some who possess a spirit of independence that is absent in these weaklings, and they will dare to vote for what will be the best interests of their constituencies.Among the latest bolters are Congressmen Geary, the author of the Chinese exclusion law, and Caminetti, of California. Mr. Geary has informed Chairman Wilson that he will no longer support him in trying to get the bill up for consideration and will stand out against it to the bitter end, and he has expressed the belief that so many Democrats are outside the tariff breastworks that the bill will yet be recommended to be sent back to the committee.

Raw Materials.

There is considerable ignorance displayed by many of the tariff tinkerers in denying what are "raw materials." They talk learnedly of making all raw materials free, but in preparing the tariff schedules they have not done so. For instance, while iron ore is the finished product to the miner, it is raw material to the manufacturer of pig iron. It is equally true that pig iron is raw material to him who makes bar iron, and the steel maker finds his "raw" stuff in bar iron, and so on through all the different processes.Take a lump of iron ore, says a correspondent of a Milwaukee paper in discussing this point, through all its graduations until it is made into the main-spring of a watch, or the finest needle, it is "raw material" many times in somebody's hands. The sawmill owner looks upon sawlogs as his raw material, and the lumber merchant buys the boards of the mill owners as his raw material, and so on.
Refined sugar that has passed through many processes since it left the cane fields, or the beet sugar factory, is raw material in the hands of the confectioner.
Take wool, take cotton, take the potter's clay and see the infinite transformations of which they are susceptible, and it will aid us in making a definition of "raw materials."

Consider the Facts.

The bids for $800,000 more of city bonds are to be opened by the common council tonight. What the bids will be, whether the terms will be favorable or unfavorable, The Herald does not know.
It is not necessary, however, that any bid be accepted, the council having reserved the right to reject all. The Herald believes that it would be good business policy to take advantage of this fact and throw out all the bids and suspend the issue of any more bonds until the financial condition of the city and the whole country has improved.What may be the purpose of issuing these bonds is of little concern in the face of the important fact that the city is now burdened by a debt that nearly reaches the 5 per cent limit and by a rate of taxation that is yearly increasing and rapidly becoming oppressive. When people who usually pay their taxes and assessments promptly find it necessary to delay payment, when hundreds of men are out of work, when business all over the country is depressed, and when there is no urgent necessity for adding $800,000 more to the city's bonded indebtedness, upon what good ground canany alderman justify a vote in favor of this?The Herald voices the views of many of the best citizens of Duluth—men who have the true interests of the city at heart—when it urges the aldermen to pause and reflect upon the condition of affairs before increasing the burdens of the people by adding $10,000 a year to the taxation.

A Clever Game Blocked.

Last Thursday the board of supervisors of Douglas county voted down a resolution declaring in favor of applying to congress to grant authority to the counties of St. Louis and Douglas to construct and operate a bridge between Rice's and Connor's points, but providing that if congress refused to grant the franchise to a private corporation the board preferred the Minnesota and Wisconsin Bridge company's bill. The defect of this resolution killed both the county bill and the Wisconsin and Minnesota company's bill, and a very clever scheme on the part of the promoters of the latter company was checkmated.The Wisconsin and Minnesota is a new company formed within a few weeks by the very men in West Superior who have so strongly urged that the counties or cities should build the bridge, and no doubt they promised to take good care of the few people in Duluth who were urging the same plan. They never intended, of course, that the cities or counties should build the bridge. They raised that cry merely to gain time and the Douglas county supervisors and the St. Louis county commissioners were deceived by their plausible talk and fell into the trap.While the commissioners and supervisors were trying to agree upon a bill and were urging the congressmen to hold up all the bills before congress, these gentlemen who were so solicitous for the public interest and so anxious that the dear people of the two counties should get a company of their own and before the two county boards could agree they had their little bill before congress. Then they pulled the strings in Superior and the county bill was killed, but to their surprise they failed to have their own bill endorsed. "This was because other people had seen through their scheme and had checkmated their plans.But the whole affair shows how insin-cerate were these professed friends of the people and how they were all, in both Duluth and Superior, working for their own interest, while pretending to be deeply concerned in protecting the interests of the dear people. It was a clever game they put up, but it was beaten.

For the Major's Reflection.

The sentiments of the people on the Mesaba range regarding the tariff on iron ore will be presented to Congressman Baldwin at an early date. A carefully prepared petition setting forth the disadvantages under which miners, mine owners, railroad and lake carriers and every industry touched by the iron trade would work in case of the removal of the tariff, has been largely signed by the people of Virginia, and the Enterprise says that every man to whom the petition was presented signed it. Not a dissenting voice was heard. Democrats signed it as numerous as did Republicans. The Enterprise pertinently observes that "as a true criterion of the expression of the people in his district who will be affected by the removal of such tariff, Representative Baldwin may, in these petitions, find food for reflection."It was found that in the tailors' workshop of the Co-operative society, of Glasgow, the women were working at less wages than men in work usually carried by men. The men struck because the demand that the women should be dismissed was not agreed upon. The Tailors' union then arranged that the women should be paid the same wages as the men.The Democrats cannot get a quorum in the house to consider the tariff bill because so many Democrats are dissatisfied with its provisions. Probably they have not heard what the would-be bosses in Duluth have said about Democrats who will not swallow the Wilson bill entire.

The St. Paul political clergymen have decided, it is said, to oppose Mayor Wright's re-election, because he has not run the city on puritanical lines as they expected. The result may be the election of some one who will return to the old "wide open" program.The report that Congressman Cummings said to a lobbyist "You are a liar and you know it," is denied. What he said was: "The statement is false and you know it." This seems to be a distinction without a difference.A Georgetown, Ohio, dispatch reports that a man who was convicted there for the third time for murder "received the verdict without betraying any emotion." This is not astonishing. A man will get accustomed to anything.The St. Paul Globe yesterday had an article on the subject "Can We be Happy in Hell?" Such speculation is unnecessary on the part of anyone living in St. Paul.If it is revenue that the government needs, why not tax the "raw material" in the present congress? It would yield a large revenue.

A Valuable Lesson.

In connection with the decision of the supreme court knocking out the ridiculous state elevator scheme, and leaving the state with a site on its hands at a total cost of about $15,000, it will be remembered that this waste of money and this absurd attempt to set up the state in grain business was the work of a Republican legislature and was done under pressure of Populist sentiment. The Republicans yielded to the demand in the hope of making political capital.They are welcome to all the good it is ever likely to do them. But if it shall teach them that it doesn't pay to pander to foolish schemes of impractical theorists for the sake of placating some political faction, it will not have been without some good results.

Their Sudden Change.

Vermilion Iron Journal: Two days before that meeting there was not a dozen men in Duluth who favored free ore or free lumber. The Democratic leaders (?) received their inspiration from some source (did Maj. Baldwin inform them the offices sought by them depended upon his misrepresentation of his constituents and the must have some backing?) and the hewgag was founded, the ton-ton was beaten, and the faithful, whose first thought is party—whose last thought is country, sprang to the rescue.

Want Preachers Who Can Preach.

Hagler, Neb. News: For the last three or four years Hagler has been made a subject for practice for men who never preached a sermon before in their lives, and the people and even members of the church are getting tired, and just as long as the conference sends men here that can't preach just so long will the people of Hagler continue to fire 'em bodily.

Faithful and Honest.

Bridgman Journal: It is announced that Maj. Baldwin has decided to be a candidate for congress. Minnesota never had a congressman who worked harder and more faithfully and honestly for the benefit of his constituents. The major should be renominated by acclamation.

What the Major Will Get.

Virginia Enterprise: Maj. Baldwin is already looking for a renomination for next fall. For the cause of protection to the interests of the people of his district, it is to be sincerely hoped that he gets it.
But as for election—he will get that where the bottle gets the cork.

Washington Star: "Well, what did you give your wife for Christmas?"
"Why, it was a—let me see, a very fine—ah—dear me! I can't remember just what it was, but I know it is very becoming to her."

Very Like Grown Folks.

Good News: Mother—"Did you pray that you might be made a better girl?" Little Ethel—"I forgot and I was a prayer that Johnny might be made a better boy."

A Good Tip.

Boston Globe: Corbett's wife is confident that he will win. What a man's wife doesn't know about his fighting powers it is useless to seek elsewhere.

John G.'s Modesty.

Two Harbors Iron News: Candidates for nomination to the various state offices are forcing themselves before the public with a modesty not unlike that of "Miser" Brown.

A Sign of Repentance.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: The St. Paul Press club has written a book and made a minister of the gospel its president. Perhaps the guilt of authorship led it to the ministerial leading strings.

Was Not Very Anxious.

The Mesaba Range: It is surmised that Maj. Baldwin was not very desirous of being asked to vote for protection and that the Democrats broke up the citizens meeting in order to let the major down easy.

And Why Not?

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Congressman Baldwin has succeeded in getting Swift, of St. Cloud, out of a good position and now a Georgia man walks off with the job. Oh, yes, the major should be renominated.

Palpitation and Rheumatism.

Mr. James S. Jones
Bruce, Wis."From my experience I think Hood's Sarsaparilla will do everything it claims and more too. It's surely entitled to my heartfelt thanks.
I think it is the best medicine in the world. For 25 years I have suffered with palpitation of the heart and rheumatism. I tried everything I could hear of, but none of them did me any good, in fact I grew worse all the time until for three years."

I Could Not Labor Any.

I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. I have taken four bottles, and I feel like a new man. I have improved so rapidly

American Store!

Is Strongest Without Coloring!

Every woman who does shopping attests that it is most unusual to find things in the store selling as they are advertised.To make believe, to get a big price for an article by strategy, by claiming it is much more than it is, constitutes the usual mode of handling mercantile enterprises.

But Not So Here!

So sure as we print an announcement in the papers, it's true in every particular.
The little biggest values we are now offering are in underwear and Cloaks. All kinds of good things are pressed far below their value to reduce surplus stocks.

The New Spring Stock Of Muslin Underwear

Is attracting the attention of a great many.Little have we said of Linens of late, but what little we did say has caused and is causing a very active getting. The cause is visible to anyone who is familiar with Linen values. To those who are not we offer the only sure protection.

Speaking Of Laces,

We simply say be shown through and carefully note

TWO MILLIONS LOSS

The World's Fair Buildings Visited by a Fire Last Night That Destroyed Valuable Exhibits.

Flames Were First Seen Issuing From the Casino and Spread Rapidly, Causing Heavy Loss.

The Beautiful Peristyle, the Casino and the Music Hall Gone—Thought to be Incendiary.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—At 5:40 p. m. yesterday a tongue of flame burst from a window in the second story of the Casino building on the World's fair grounds and the structure was soon a mass of flames. The fire department quickly responded to an urgent call, but the fire continued to spread. It was carried by burning brands to the promenade around the roof of the manufactures and liberal arts building almost in the center, a little to the south of the clock tower which formed a striking center piece in the great building. The plank walk of which the promenade was constructed ignited and the fire soon reached the half-demolished pavilions, booths and places of costly exhibits belonging to Germany, France, Great Britain, Russia and other countries who exhibited in a cluster around the clock tower.

In the manufactures building, the French exhibit, located just south of the center, was the first to suffer damage by the fire. This exhibit was originally valued at $1,500,000, but the larger portion of it is said to have been moved out. Among the losses enumerated are the bronze statue of war, the imitation jewelry display, Seneca china ware display, Jabelins tapestries, Benidais exhibit of mosaic and inlaid furniture, the bronze vase, Bon Marche dress exhibit and library of French books. Those in charge of the exhibit approximate the French loss at more than $200,000. The Japanese exhibit was valued at $30,000; the German at $100,000; the Swiss at $50,000, and the Spanish at $40,000. More than three-fourths of the English and Canadian exhibits had been removed and their loss is about $35,000. The total loss of exhibits is about $1,500,000.

The fire was not under control until 2 o'clock this morning, when the Casino and Music hall and the beautiful peristyle were totally destroyed and the great manufactures building was badly damaged. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Col. Rice, commanding the Colombian guards, said that in his opinion the fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. In support of this he cited the fact that the flames were first seen issuing from the second story of the Casino, where visitors were not supposed to be, and where it was scarcely possible that the men could have carelessly dropped fire, as no workmen had business there. The colonel said that he saw no sense in the fire, and that he was not responsible for the safety of the buildings already turned over to the park commissioners.

However, he said he had stationed one man in the vicinity of the peristyle, although the park police were supposed to be in authority there. With his limited force, numbering not over 175 or 200 men, it was impossible to more than cover the inside of the large buildings, where valuable goods were stored. The park policemen, he said, showed their inefficiency from the fact that they scarcely had stamina enough to keep the crowds back during the fire. In his opinion, if some dynamite had been used before the flames reached the quadriga, the havoc could have been effectively staid.

A rough estimate places the loss on the buildings at almost $800,000. No estimate yet of the loss on the exhibits can be given, until the cases containing the stored goods are examined.

At 11 o'clock when the attention of the fire department was turned towards saving the manufactures building from the impending danger of total destruction, the smoldering embers of the peristyle were fanned to life again by the brisk breeze.

STRICKEN DEAD

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H.——, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced death the cause of death. A peculiarly sad feature of the case is that Mr. H.—— was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his loved. He had passed the previous two years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If you have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Slaton, Pa.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and vomiting spells, pain in chest, head, side, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-two years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is improved. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

and set fire to the piling. Slowly the flames worked toward the agricultural building. Four engines were kept busy playing on the burning piles and succeeded in subduing the flames and putting the agricultural building out of danger.

When the piling underneath the peristyle had burned away, the earth, deprived of support, gave way and fell into the lake with a crash, leaving a hole 150 feet in length and 20 feet in width. The statue of the republic was left unharmed save for a little scorching by the heat.

WANT THEIR OLD WAGES.

Employees of a Barbed Wire Factory Go on Strike.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—The employees of the Cincinnati Barbed Wire Fence factory at Fairmount, to the number of between 500 and 600, are out on strike.

The trouble dates back to about Nov. 1 last. Then the company posted a notice to the effect that a 10 per cent reduction in wages would be made, to continue in effect until Jan. 1. The reduction was reluctantly received by the men, and there were at the time some manifestations of a strike sentiment. Cooler heads prevailed, however. From Nov. 1 to the present time the factory has never been entirely free from strike talk.

Last Saturday was the first pay day in the new year, and it did not bring a restoration of the old scale of wages, the men determined to quit work. Yesterday all the employees of the concern put in an appearance at the plant, but refused to work a lick until after satisfaction was given. There is no union among these men but they are standing firmly together, bound by the ties of common interest. The strike looks as though it might be a long and bitter one.

McKANE LOST A POINT.

A Republican Declared Entitled to a Seat as Supervisor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—John Y. McKane lost an important point yesterday in his fight against his political enemies. The defeat is embodied in an opinion handed down by Justice Cullen of the supreme court of Brooklyn.

The opinion was delivered to settle the dispute that has arisen as to which party shall have control of the board of supervisors. Justice Cullen decides that Supervisor Richard L. Haisley, of Flat Lands, a McKane supporter, is not entitled to his seat, but that John Ryder, a Republican, is.

This decision amounts also to a decision that the present alleged supervisor from Flatbush is not entitled to his seat, as he is in the same position as Haisley. The result of the decision will probably be to depose McKane as president pro tem of the board.

COLD IN CALIFORNIA.

The Orange and Lemon Crops Badly Damaged by Frost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The unusually cold weather of the past few days in Southern California has seriously damaged the orange and lemon crops, large quantities of fruit having been frost bitten, making it almost worthless. Some growers declare that above the threshold of the crops has been damaged, while a majority express the belief that only one-quarter of the crop is injured.

Chairman Perry, of the Southern California fruit exchange, says the loss will run far into the thousands, but the exact amount cannot be known for several days. Other prominent growers, however, state that the choice fruit has largely escaped and that the damage will be comparatively small.

PAINTER WILL BE HANGED.

Governor Aligeld is Firmly Convinced of His Guilt.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—George H. Painter will be hanged next Friday for the murder of Alice Martin. That day the relief granted three weeks ago by Governor Aligeld will expire, and the governor refuses to grant a new lease of life.

He gave the attorneys for Painter a lengthy hearing yesterday in Springfield, and at the conclusion of it he said he was as strongly convinced as ever that no other person than George H. Painter was the murderer of Alice Martin, and that such a murderer richly deserved to die from the gallows.

Variety Theater Assigned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Levi Salomon, who owns and conducts the Empire theater at 146 West Madison street, assigned yesterday. Assets and liabilities are placed at $25,000 each. ENTIRE FAMILY GONE

Henry Sauer and Wife Murdered in Their Home Near Pinchtown, O., and Their Son Missing.

The Barn Was Burned and the House Fired, But Neighbors Put Out the Flames.

Both Bodies Had Been Saturated With Oil and All the Clothing Was Burned Off.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 9.—Henry Sauer, a respectable German, and his wife were murdered last night in their home near Pinchtown, four miles north, and their son is missing. Their barn was burned and the house had been set on fire, but neighbors arrived in time to extinguish the blaze. Mr. and Mrs. Sauer lay full length on the kitchen floor. Their clothing was burned from their bodies, having been saturated with oil.

The neighbors put out the blaze and saved the bodies and house from destruction. The floor was covered with blood, which ebbed from eight bullet holes in the left side of Mrs. Sauer's head and from a wound caused by a heavy blow in the back of Mr. Sauer's head. Mr. Sauer lay the barrels of the gun. They were bent as if from heavy blows.

A visit to the fire at the barn revealed nothing except burnt carcasses of horses, cows and other stock. Many suppose the boy was burned in the barn, but there is nothing to warrant this save his absence. The coroner soon arrived and Sauer's pocketbook containing $3.76 was found. It is believed the entire family was murdered and that robbery was the object.

THEY WERE CAST ADRIFT.

Four Children in Denver Without Parents or Home.

DENVER, Jan. 9.—Miss Dollie Watson, aged 10 years, accompanied by four brothers and sisters of still younger age, appeared at police headquarters yesterday with the story that their aunt, Mrs. Wair, of 117 Fullerton avenue, Chicago, had cast them adrift. They were trying to get to their parents, both of whom are now serving sentences in the state penitentiary at Canon for shoplifting.

The Watson gang was arrested during holiday times a year ago for shoplifting when it was discovered that they had a fence somewhere in Chicago. After a hard fought case they were finally convicted.

To Forfeit a Charter.

PARSONS, Kan., Jan. 9.—Attorney General Little, of Kansas, is in the city, in consultation with County Attorney Farrelly, of Neosho county, and Judge Nicholson, of Council Grove, in reference to commencing the long talked of suit to forfeit the charter of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway company for failure to maintain general offices in the state as provided by law. The petition of forfeiture will be filed in the Neosho district court at Erie before Judge Stillwell. Judge Nicholson has been retained to assist the attorney general in the case.

DEFIANCE, O., Jan. 9.—George W. Bechtel was yesterday appointed receiver of the Defiance Light and Power company. forces assist in the revolution or that he had ever done so.

The government disclaims having ever authorized Damon or any other person to make terms for the queen's surrender, and denies that he ever reported or was asked to report such terms. Damon made those terms on his own responsibility. Never before or since the revolution, did the members of the committee of safety confer with Stevens about the overthrow of the government. The provisional government is responsible only to those who constituted and are now maintaining it in power. It is amenable to no foreign power on earth. It has always been faithful to its constituents and by no acts or omission has ever offered to submit its rights to the United States or any other power.

For these reasons this government must refuse to consider the proposition of Minister Willis. No allusion is made by President Dole to Willis' appeals to their patriotism and moral sense, nor to the terms of amnesty secured from the ex-queen.

The steamship Warrimoo, of the Canadian-Australian line, arrived at 9 o'clock last evening, seven days from Honolulu. The Warrimoo lay at Honolulu Dec. 31 and Jan. 1. While there, beyond the sight of a few provisional government soldiers parading the streets, there was nothing to indicate that the country was in the midst of a political crisis upon the outcome of which rests its future.

The Warrimoo brought no passengers from Hawaii. B. Thompson, one of the British commissioners of 1911, was a passenger. He said to the United Press reporter: "My stay was very short and my investigation into the situation necessarily superficial. The provisional government, evidently taking a cue, now advance the claim that their government is fully organized and properly constituted, and any act of the United States tending to restoration is an act against a recognized power. There is not the faintest doubt that a vote of the people would overthrow it. Provisional soldiers are paid $10 a month, and while a lucrative salary is paid, the ranks will always be full. The nation is in a state of anarchy. At it. They are given all sorts of reports and I doubt if they appreciate the true situation. They are held in check, no doubt, by the presence of the American, Japanese and British men of war in the harbor. The landing of the United States marines at the time of the overthrow had its effect on them."

SPANISH STEAMER SUNK.

Twenty-two of Her Crew Escaped and Two Were Drowned.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The British steamer Esk, bound from Shields for London with coal, was in collision Sunday night with the Spanish steamer Musques, ore laden and bound from Bilbao for Middlesbrough. The Spanish steamer was badly damaged that she sank stern first in a few minutes after being struck. Twenty-two of her crew succeeded in boarding the British Esk, but two others went down with the steamer. The Esk sustained much damage. The accident occurred off Lowestoft during a dense fog.

To Be Tried For Forgery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—New York Brant of the supreme court yesterday signed the order committing Edward M. Field to the custody of the sheriff of this county. The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth. In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office. The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest receive his choice of the $125.00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panton & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in December counts three votes and each vote cast the first ten days in January will count one vote each. The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Everybody is Engaged in Discussing the Municipal Political Situation at the Present Time.

Selection of Aldermen Seems to be Exciting More Interest Than the Choice of Mayor.

Ray T. Lewis is the Favorite Among Republicans for the Mayoralty—Democrats are Waiting.

Politics is warming up a bit as the February election draws near but as far as can be ascertained but little in the way of organized effort has been made by either of the leading parties. There are a number of politicians who have been pulling underground wires for some time but what effect these have had upon the people is yet unknown. Among the Republicans Ray T. Lewis and M. J. Davis are most frequently spoken of for mayor and judging from the general expression the former is by long odds the favorite. The fight here has undoubtedly been the hottest over the selection of aldermen as the people feel that they should put forward the best men to represent them in the council.

The Democrats are not saying much and are waiting to find out upon whom the party leaders at Duluth will unite for mayor.

Work For the Idle Men.
The council acted very wisely last night when it voted $13,000 to be expended on rock work under the direction of the board of public works, so as to furnish employment to many idle men who are now unable to earn sufficient money to support themselves and their families. The city will be the gainer in many ways by this action. A work that must be done some day will be prevented from becoming charges upon the county and the generously disposed people who are in more fortunate circumstances. It will also provide a means of weeding out the undeserving, who take advantage of such conditions as now prevail to impose upon the charitable institutions.

No able bodied man can now claim aid on the ground that he cannot obtain work, because there will be work for all who need it. The man who will not work when he can get work and is in good health, deserves no assistance and should not be given any assistance.

The Herald is pleased that the agitation which it started at the request of the unemployed has borne such excellent fruit. The providing of this work will prevent much distress and suffering, and it will bring joy and gladness to many poverty-stricken homes. The board of works should guard carefully against men who will rush here from Superior and other towns hoping to get work. No one whose residence here is not known, or cannot be positively proven, should be given work. This employment is provided for residents of Duluth alone.
Other cities must take care of their own idle men.

The Major Refracts.
A Washington special to the Minneapolis Tribune says: "In reply to the caustic editorials in the Duluth Herald Baldwin says he is not surprised at its course. He never regarded The Herald as a Democratic paper and would not be surprised at anything The Herald says."

For this explanation The Herald returns thanks to the major. Less than a week ago a dispatch to the same Minneapolis paper represented Maj. Baldwin as saying that The Herald, though Democratic, was controlled by iron land speculators," etc. The Herald promptly pointed out to the major that it was not Democratic and had never claimed to be, neither was it controlled by iron land speculators, but was free and independent and in a position to work for the best interests of Duluth, which has always been its first thought even when, strange as it may now seem, it supported Maj.
Baldwin for congress.

But the major has retraced his assertion that this paper is Democratic, and The Herald gladly accepts his apology and will retain no hard feeling on this score. But, while he is in the retracting line, would it not be fair if the major would recall the rest of his rash statement? Surely his conscience would feel easier.

P. S.—Since the above was put in type The Herald has received the following dispatch from its Washington correspondent: "Representative Baldwin says that the purported interview with him, telegraphed to the Minneapolis Tribune from Washington, in which he was made to say that The Duluth Herald was a Democratic paper, but did not represent the Democracy in Duluth, was a base fabrication. He says he never made any such statement and has roasted the Tribune correspondent for stating that he did."

The statement in a Washington dispatch to The Herald yesterday that Fred L. Ryan was not appointed receiver of the Duluth land office "for some time, if at all," is not credited here. There is no known candidate in opposition to Mr.
Ryan, and his appointment has been regarded as certain. The Washington rumor is probably only a surmise based upon the fact that the appointment was not made yesterday when it was expected.

Quite a Difference.
The oratorical star at the celebration of Jackson day in Louisville yesterday was Henry Watterson, and a dispatch relates that the great music hall of the chief city of the blue grass region was crowded with people of all classes to hear the words of wisdom that might fall from the lips of the "star-eyed goddess of reform." The crowd expected a lively address and it was not disappointed. Mr. Watterson spoke for more than an hour in the plainest English.

First denying that the tariff plank adopted in the last convention was introduced to obstruct the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, he declared that "if the convention had suspected that Mr.
Cleveland had any hand in the plank it struck out, he would not have received one-third of its votes." With this keen thrust at the president, Mr. Watterson proceeded to dissect Professor Wilson, whose name is attached to the tariff bill now pending in congress—a measure which, Mr. Watterson declared, "strikes a blow at genuine tariff reform and may set the policy of revenue only back for many years to come." He described it as "Mr. Wilson's moderate dose of free trade powders in protectionist capsules," and if protection is ever to be dislodged he doubted the Trojan horse strategy to which this bill seems to incline. President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle were praised. "If we could make them over again," said he, "into one man we should have a Jackson."

Those who oppose the free trade or revenue only idea no doubt wish that Mr.
Watterson had the miraculous power to make over these two distinguished gentlemen into a Jackson, because then they would be assured that no tariff bill that destroyed the benefits of protection to home industries would be signed at the White House. Andrew Jackson is revered by Democrats of the ultra free trade stripe like the Wattersons and the Neals.
Every year, upon Jackson day, they gather together and eulogize him, and then they shout about the blessings that free trade would confer upon this country, seemingly unconscious of the ridiculous contrast that this presents.

Andrew Jackson was a protectionist.
Certainly he was nominated upon a protection platform, as the following resolution, adopted as part of the platform of 1829, will show:

"Resolved, that an adequate protection of industry is indispensable to the prosperity of the country, and that an abandonment of the policy at this period would be attended with consequences serious to the best interests of this nation."

How appropriately this resolution sounds now. There is quite a difference between it and the last tariff plank adopted at Chicago and which Henry Watterson now lauds as the true policy.
There is quite a difference in the tariff views of the Wattersons and Neals and others and those held by Andrew Jackson, but they do not seem to know it.

The Mayoralty Contest.
Alderman B. F. Howard, who has been frequently mentioned as a probable candidate for mayor, has announced that he is not in the field. This leaves Capt. R.
T. Lewis a very clear field for the Republican nomination.

Alderman Howard had many warm supporters for the mayoralty, and there is no doubt that he would have proven an excellent man for this important office. He has had large experience in the conduct of municipal affairs, having served in the council at various times, and he possesses executive ability and good judgment.

The Herald does not know what are his intentions, but if he should conciliate to be a candidate again for the council, the ward in which he lives could not make a better choice.

One of the latest syndicate letters by Ella Wheeler Wilcox is in denunciation of kissing. Evidently Ella has foreseen her more youthful predilections. But if kissing would lead to such sizzling hot poems as she formerly wrote, perhaps her latest opinion on the subject is correct and the habit should be shunned.

Senator Davis has given notice that he will address the senate tomorrow on the Hawaiian question, and it is expected that he will attack the policy of the administration in a very forcible speech.
Senator Davis does not speak often, but when he does he gets a hearing from the whole country.

The destruction by fire last night of valuable exhibits remaining in the World's fair buildings will be deeply regretted. The loss is heavy and no doubt some of the exhibits can never be replaced. The beautiful peristyle was wiped out of existence.

Many Democratic associations throughout the country held banquets last night in honor of Jackson day, and speeches eulogistic of "Old Hickory" and of the Wilson tariff bill were delivered at several places. Yet the platform upon which Jackson was elected declared in favor of protection to home industries.

Queen Lil's chances of regaining her throne are not as promising as Warwick Gresham could desire.

President Dole has not given Minister Willis his passports and ordered him to leave Hawaii. But if he had done so, who will deny that he would not have been fully justified?

How is it that the Duluth Democrats who favor free iron are failed to observe Jackson day? Is it that they love Cleveland more than they revere Jackson's memory?

Why is Maj. Baldwin so anxious to have the sale of pine lands on the Red Lake reservation rushed as fast as the pine is estimated? Why this haste?

Advice for the Major.
Appleton Press: Congressman Baldwin has been instructed to vote on both sides of the free iron clause of the Wilson bill by his admiring constituents and don't know which instruction to follow.
Let him vote for the bill but "sign" its enforcement, and all will be well.

Effect of Populism.
Preston Times: A Populist editor in the northern portion of the state, after having abused everybody in the community for years, has finally gone crazy, and a Populist editor in South Dakota committed murder within a week. We do not wonder that the Populist doctrine has a tendency to mentally unbalance its advocates.

Is Too Confident.
Northfield News: Blind confidence is applied to the case of Senator Washburn.
He and his friends are counting on the support of men who are knocking him off their feet.

Be's Wondering.
Tower Budget: After reading the holiday numbers of The Duluth Herald and News Tribune we are moved to wonder why for our unsalted seaside neighbors want a tariff on ore or anything else.

A Tinge of Humor.
Omaha World-Herald: There is a large number of delegates to the recent irrigation convention at North Platte were milken.

Just Suppose.
Milwaukee Journal: Suppose the Northern Pacific employees should all be sent to jail for contempt of court and the United States obliged to pay the expenses.

Our Great Country.
Galveston News: We have in this country all sorts of people, besides some who have never been classified.

Amusements.
"The Girl I Left Behind Me" drew a crowded house and judging from the appreciation manifested in hearty applause the audience must have been thoroughly pleased. The play is well constructed and well written for it could hardly be anything else coming from David Belasco and his associates. The lines are bright and crisp and although it is a military drama there is a gratifying absence of the patriotic bombast so frequently inserted in plays of this kind to catch the crowd.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me" is very much like one of Capt. Charles King's novels. It is a story of army life, the scene being laid in Montana in the Indian country. Some of the characters are considerably overdrawn, in fact the whole play is, but it pleases nevertheless.
The third act is the great one of the play and has been called an "American Refuge of Lucknow." It presents the interior of the post, surrounded on the outside by bloodthirsty Indians. All hope is gone and the general raises his revolver to kill his daughter in all his proper own prayer, when she suddenly hears the bullets of the Twelfth regiment. There is a round of shots, a fierce conflict outside and the little garrison is saved.

The company presenting the play is not a particularly brilliant one but is good. Harold Russell and Mrs. E. J. Gibb in the leading roles were excellent. Mart E. Heisey as Maj. Burleigh was good and Harry Mills sustained the comedy role very ably. Miss Irene Everett as the soldier's sister was clever and Helle Bucklin was good. Master George Enos as Dick, the major's son, was also very good.

Died, at the home of her parents, at the age of 21 years, Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Funeral services from house at 524 East Fourth street on Thursday, 1 o'clock p. m.

THEY ALLEGE FRAUD

John and William McKinley Come Back at A. M. Miller, in a Sensational Manner.

They Accuse Him of Misrepresentation With Intent to Cheat in the Sale of Some Property.

Suit is Now Brought to Recover From Him the Entire Amount Which Was Paid.

Some three or four weeks ago, A. M. Miller sold John and William McKinley on promissory notes for about $30,000 which were given in part payment of the sum of $75,000, which Miller took as a bonus for the execution of a lease on certain lands in $8 and $9-18 in St. Louis county.

At the time McKinley brothers, March 1892, paid Miller this $150,000, they had no knowledge or information in relation to the lands he proposed to lease to them, so the defendants allege in their answer which has just been drawn up, except that given them by Miller who, they allege, represented that he knew the lands to be very valuable for iron ore and that it was a more valuable property than the Mountain Iron mines.

The McKinleys objected to taking a lease and paying so large a bonus, because of the fact that, as stated by him, Alfred Merritt was ready and willing to take the property on the same terms and pay the bonus of $150,000.

Miller further assured them that an examination was entirely unnecessary, and also produced and exhibited to them a map of the land and traced thereon in lead pencil the location, trend and extent of a large body of iron ore which he said existed in parts of the lands.

Thereupon, the McKinleys relying on Miller's representation, closed the deal with him, paid $100,000 in cash and gave their notes for the balance of $50,000. They then began a thorough exploration of the property and continued such operations for more than a year. In doing so, they claim to have expended over $17,000 without finding any ore whatever on the property.

They further claim that the representations made by Miller were false and made for the purpose of defrauding and cheating them. They also state that they led a great many of their friends to invest in property on the strength of Miller's representations. They now seek to recover from Miller the entire sum paid to him by them, upon the grounds that the lease was worthless; that the property was of no value and that the representations were false, fraudulent and designed to cheat and defraud them out of their money.

The district court.

The calendar in the district court today went off about as quickly as yesterday. Before Judge Lewis three cases were continued.

Reynolds vs. W. P. Strickland et al. and Nellie A. Windolf vs. S. G. Wightman, et al.

The defendant did not appear. In Michael Shanahan vs. Duluth Street Railway the defendant did not appear but the case was continued to Monday for further testimony.

The following cases were set for trial on Monday next: 56, 57, 151, 186, 148.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed, it swells and closes, so that the air cannot reach the eardrum. When this occurs, the eardrum becomes thick and the hearing is lost. It is entirely closed deafness, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars to J. C. Chamberlain & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 7c.

THE REALTY SITUATION.

Dealers Discussed Ways and Means at the Spalding Last Night.

The rotunda of the Spalding was looking more like old times last night than it has for many a day. Not that there was any excitement for that, was manifestly absent, but there were small knots of men gathered around about who were evidently talking about business. The business that interested most of the crowd was the real estate situation and the plenitude of money offering for good loans on improved property. Most of the solid real estate firms were represented and it seemed as if this impromptu gathering was the genuine result of a turn in affairs.

Inquiry of some of the busiest men of the throng showed that Eastern parties were suffering from a plethora of capital. One gentleman had a letter which contained the following words: "I want you to write to me a candid statement of how values have withstood the late financial crisis. I am interested by a friend, who lately visited Duluth, in spite of all difficulties there has been no slump in real estate values, but that good paying investments are easier to obtain for spot cash now than they were a year ago when I was with you. I look forward to your answer with some impatience as I have money in my hands that I must reinvest and as I have been very lucky in Duluth I feel inclined to put my clients money into Duluth property."

Upon being asked how he had answered this request the gentleman, who was Col. D. H. Stevenson, said: "I told my friend that in my opinion this was a very favorable time to invest money here. That although there had been no slump in prices, yet there were many men who were inclined to give more favorable terms to would-be cash purchasers, and also that owing to the financial pressure they had purchased profitable permanent investments for themselves. I avoided anything like boom talk. Duluth does not need the kind of speculation that has been accomplished here speaks for itself. My firm has received a good many such inquiries lately, and I feel much encouraged over the situation."

C. E. Lovett appeared to be of much the same opinion as Col. Stevenson, and said that, even the most conservative view of the situation was a cheering one. He also found that his Eastern customers were beginning to write and enquire about the Duluth real estate market, and money safely and profitably, and also that up to now he had advised great caution, he was now bound to admit that he considered the situation a cheering one when a prudent man might with propriety look about him with a view of picking up advantageous investments.

Others spoke in nearly the same strain and there seemed to be a universal desire on the part of those present to start some sort of a movement whereby the real estate men could meet in an informal manner and interchange ideas and views without the trouble and expense of a set organization. It is quite possible that the evening gathering at the Spalding will become a feature of the winter season.

MAY GET A TEACHER.

Instructor in Stenography to be Secured if a Class Numbers Fifteen.

Before the holidays a class in stenography was started in connection with the night school at the Central High school. When the holidays came on the instructor of that class was compelled to give up the work on account of his health. There was no one to supply the vacancy, much to the dissatisfaction of those who had commenced the course and who had purchased books and supplies. About a dozen called upon Superintendent Denfeld last evening and asked that another teacher be secured. He agreed to do so on condition that not less than fifteen pupils join the class and continue to the close of the term. It is possible as many as twenty members for the class are desired. Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings have been given to the work and all who wish to join the class and help to make out the required number, will do well to report at the Central High school building at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

PEOPLE'S MISTAKES.

A VERY VEXED SUBJECT CLEARLY EXPLAINED.

"IT INTERESTS YOU."

It is Most Surprising That Men and Women Should Not Have Understood This Before, But it is Fortunate That They Do Now.

"It is surprising what mistakes even some of the best people in the world make."

The speaker was one of the greatest doctors the world has ever known. "Take, for example, one of the common things in the world, namely, a cold. People speak of taking cold—there is really no such thing. A cold is a symptom, an effect, not a cause. Did you ever know an absolutely well and healthy person who took cold? I never have, even under the greatest exposure. Yes, indeed a cold is a symptom, not a cause."

"You may be surprised," he continued, "when I tell you that nine-tenths of all colds occur because those great organs of the body, the kidneys, are out of order. More men and women are troubled with imperfect kidneys than with any other known form of disease. The unfortunate thing about it is that they do not know that this is their trouble. Why? Because the kidneys are usually diseased and the kidneys are usually diseased without any pain, in fact, without any symptoms whatever, and this proves just what I said, first, namely, that 'a cold is a symptom.'"

"What I say is true. If you have a cold in the head, a cough, pain in the muscles or joints, if you sneeze or wheeze, do not try to doctor these symptoms, but go at once to their cause, which is invariably the kidneys. Use the best discovery of modern times for these organs, which is Warner's Safe Cure. Put your kidneys in proper condition and any cold, however bad it may be, will disappear as if by magic. Indeed, 'convinced' the doctor, most deliberately and earnestly, 'I assert that the grip, which has been so disastrous, which has brought so much trouble and sorrow, and which never have had its run in the kidneys of those who had suffered from it had been in perfect condition. These great organs, if unclogged by the medical profession, but disease from the system so that the grip would have been unknown.'"

The doctor's words, startling as they may seem, were true, and the remedy of which he spoke the only one known to the world for regulating the kidneys. No class of people know or realize this better than the medical profession, but thousands of men and women have learned it to their own great advantage.

THE DESK IS LOCKED.

The Chamber of Commerce Directors Cannot Get Into It.

The regular weekly meeting of the chamber of commerce was held this morning. It was the intention of the directors to pay all bills and clear up all indebtedness but they were prevented from so doing by the negligence of the ex-secretary in not attending any of the regular meetings. The desk formerly occupied by him is the property of the chamber and in it is stored a number of papers and vouchers that are also the property of the members of the chamber, but no access can be had to them because the ex-secretary has the key and for some reason has failed to deliver it up.

President Johnson explained this at length to the chamber and said that how long this annoyance would last he did not know. Then the meeting got down to business. They endorsed the anti-Wilson bill resolutions passed by the Duluth stock exchange, paid all the bills that were not locked up in the desk and postponed the next election of officers until such time as that desk can be opened. They also appointed a committee to take care of the property of the chamber.

One of the directors said after the meeting: "We hate to spoil the desk by locking it and we think that the ex-secretary must be very ill advised. He should at least attend a meeting and explain his reluctance to deliver up the key as the desk is our property and as far as we know all his personal claims against us are satisfied."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The dispatches from Honolulu by way of Victoria exclusively brought by the United Press and published in the morning papers here, created an immediate and painful sensation at the capitol, particularly among the friends of the administration who find themselves in a most embarrassing position.

Secretary Gresham said he had no confirmation of the story, the advice which arrived by the Corwin not having reached him, and he seemed at first to doubt its correctness.

CHURCHES TO BE UNITED.

The Baptist and Christian Denominations to Become One.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—A good deal of interest has been aroused among local ministers by the announcement that Dr. Kerr Tupper, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Denver, and one of the best known divines in the West, had made the startling announcement in the ministers' meeting that in a short time the Baptist and Christian denomination of the world will be united under the name of the latter and that conference to that end are now pending.

His statement, which implies a question of vital importance, was fully substantiated here today, and it develops that the scheme of consolidation has progressed secretly to a point that makes its consummation quite probable.

In doing so, they claim to have expended over $17,000 without finding any ore whatever on the property.

They further claim that the representations made by Miller were false and cheating them. They also state that they had such confidence in Miller, that they let a great many of their friends to invest in property on the strength of Miller's representations. They now seek to recover from Miller the entire sum paid to him by them, upon the grounds that the lease was worthless; that the property was of no value and that the representations were false, fraudulent and designed to cheat and defraud them out of their money.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear, if it is not cured, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. J. C. Carter & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c.

THE REALTY SITUATION.

The return of the Spalding was looking more like old times last night than it has for many a day. Not that there was any excitement for that was painfully absent, but there were small knots of men gathered around about who were evidently talking about business. The business that interested most of the crowd was the real estate situation and the plenitude of money offering for good loans on improved property. Most of the solid real estate firms were represented and it seemed as if this impromptu gathering was the genuine result of a turn in affairs.

Inquiry of some of the busiest men of the throng showed that Eastern parties were suffering from a plethora of capital. One gentleman said: "I want you to write to me a candid statement of how values have withstood the late financial crisis. I am interested by a friend, who has lately visited Duluth, that in spite of all difficulties there has been no slump in real estate values, but that good paying investments are a shade easier to obtain for spot cash now than they were a year ago when I was with you. I look forward to your answer with some impatience as I have money in my hands that I must reinvest and as I have been universally lucky in Duluth I feel inclined to put my clients money into Duluth property."

Upon being asked how he had answered this request the gentleman, who was Col. J. H. Stevenson, said: "I told my friend that in my opinion this was a very favorable time to invest money here. That although there had been no slump in prices, yet there were men who were inclined to give more favorable terms to would-be cash purchasers, and also that owing to the financial pressure some were willing to let go of property that they had purchased as profitable permanent investments for themselves. I advised anything like boom talk. Duluth does not need that now, as what has been accomplished here speaks for itself. My firm has received a good many such inquiries lately, and I feel much encouraged over the situation."

C. E. Lovett appeared to be of much the same opinion as Col. Stevenson, and said that, even from a conservative view of the situation was a cheering one. He also found that the Eastern customers were beginning to write and enquire about the chances of investing money safely and profitably, and although up to now he had advised great caution, he was now bound to admit that he considered that the time had come when a prudent man might with propriety look about him with a view of picking up advantageous investments.
Others spoke in the same familiar strain and there seemed to be a universal desire on the part of those present to start some sort of a movement whereby the real estate men could meet in an informal manner and interchange ideas and views without the trouble and expense of organization. It is quite possible that the evening gatherings at the Spalding will become a feature of the winter season.

MAY GET A TEACHER.

Instructor in Stenography to be Secured if a Class Number Fifteen.

Before the holidays a class in stenography was started in connection with the night school at the Central High school. When the holidays came on the instructor of that class was compelled to give up the work on account of his health. There was, however, a vacancy, much to the dissatisfaction of those who had commenced the course and who had purchased books and supplies. About a dozen letters upon Superintendent Denfeld last evening and asked that another teacher be secured. He agreed to do so on condition that not less than fifteen students would continue to the close of the term. If possible as many as twenty members for the class are desired. Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings have been given to the work and all who wish to join the class and help to make out the required number, will do well to report at the Central High School building at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

PEOPLE'S MISTAKES.

The speaker was one of the greatest doctors the world has ever known. "Take, for example, one of the common things in the world, namely, a cold. People speak of 'taking cold'—there is really no such thing. A cold is a symptom, an effect, not a cause. Did you ever know an absolutely well and healthy person who took cold? I never have, even under the greatest exposure. Yes, indeed a cold is a symptom, not a cause."

"What I say is true. If you have a cold in the head, a cough, pain in the muscles or joints, if you sneeze or wheeze, do not try to doctor these symptoms, but go at once to their cause, which is invariably the kidneys. Use the best discovery of modern times for these organs, which is Warner's Safe Cure. Put your kidneys in proper condition and any cold, however bad it may be, will disappear as if by magic. Indeed," continued the doctor, most deliberately and earnestly, "I assert that the grip, which has been so disastrous, which has brought so much trouble into the world, has never had its run if the kidneys of those who had suffered from it had been in perfect condition. These great organs, if unclogged, would have thrown the disease from the system so that the grip would have been unknown."

The doctor's words, startling as they may seem, were true, and the remedy of which he spoke the only one known to the world for regulating the kidneys. No class of people know or realize this better than the medical profession, but thousands of men and women have learned it to their own great advantage.

THE DESK IS LOCKED.

The Chamber of Commerce Directors Cannot Get Into It.

The regular weekly meeting of the chamber of commerce was held this morning. It was the intention of the directors to pay all bills and clear up all indebtedness but they were prevented from so doing by the negligence of the ex-secretary in not attending any of the regular meetings. The desk, which was occupied by him is the property of the chamber and in it is stored a number of papers and vouchers that are also the property of the chamber, but no access can be had to them because the ex-secretary has the key and for some reason has failed to deliver it up.

President Johnson explained this at length to the chamber and said that how long this annoyance would last he did not know. Then the meeting got down to business. They endorsed the anti-Wilson bill resolutions passed by the Duluth chamber in the bills that were not locked up in the desk and postponed the next election of officers until such time as that desk can be opened. They also appointed a committee to take care of the property of the chamber.

One of the directors said after the meeting: "We hate to see a clerk in the ex-secretary must be very ill advised. He should at least attend a meeting and explain his reluctance to deliver up the key as the desk is our property and as far as we know all his personal claims against us are satisfied."

GRESHAM KNOWS NOTHING.

Has Not Yet Received the Advice Brought by the Corwin.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The dispatches from Honolulu by way of Victoria, exclusively brought by the United Press and published in the morning papers here, created an immediate and painful sensation at the capitol, particularly among the friends of the administration who find themselves in a most embarrassing position.

Secretary Gresham said he had no confirmation of the story, the advice which arrived by the Corwin not having reached him, and he seemed at first to doubt its correctness.

CHURCHES TO BE UNITED.

The Baptist and Christian Denominations to Become One.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—A good deal of interest has been aroused among local ministers by the announcement that Dr. Kerr Tupper, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Denver, and one of the best known divines in the West, had made the startling announcement in the ministers' meeting that in a short time the Baptist and Christian denomination of the world will be united under the name of the latter and that conferences to that end are now pending. His statement, which implies a question of vital importance, was fully substantiated here today, and it develops that the scheme of consolidation has progressed secretly to a point that makes its consummation quite probable.

Smugglers Arrested.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The customs authorities here assisted by special treasury agents have unearthed a gigantic smuggling ring employing at least three vessels in its nefarious practices. George Wichman, a prominent candy dealer of this city, and Louis Greenwald, of Victoria, B. C., are in the county jail charged with smuggling 1500 pounds of opium and thirteen Chinese ashore on the northern coast in September last.

Old Village Officials Deny That Street Assessments Have Been Made, But Work Not Done.

C. W. Hoyt Resigned as President of the Merchants Bank and H. H. Phelps Was Elected.

Firemen Are Now Making an Inspection of the Buildings by Direction of Chief Jackson.

Mayor d'Auremont's assertions in the morning paper that assessments have been made on the streets in West Duluth but that the work has not been done is indignantly denied by past officials of the village. It is stated by ex-Treasurer Johnson that all the assessments levied were final and that all the streets are completed with the exception of the extension of Grand avenue through Grassy Point addition, where a portion of the work has been necessarily left over until spring.

ANSWERS SOME ASSERTIONS.

Ex-Recorder Bergstrom Has Something to Say About West Duluth Affairs.

P. J. Bergstrom, the ex-recorder of West Duluth, said today that when he took hold of his office two years ago he found nothing in the shape of records, but some stub books and council minutes. All he could do was to get the balances from the treasurer, check up with the bank and start his books on that basis. These books have been faithfully kept up to date and are in first-class shape. As to the claim that duplicate bonds might have been wrongfully issued, he says, it is simply nonsense, as in the bond record book on the face of every page is printed the word "copy" and besides that the record book is printed on common paper and the leaves do not resemble a bond at all. The assertion that Mayor Martin signed his name in various matters is nonsense. The copyist in some cases copied the signatures carelessly, but as this was of no moment the copies in the record book were not changed. Mr. Bergstrom says that he counts the fullest investigation, official or otherwise, of all his official acts and deeds, and feels aggrieved to think that he should have been so misrepresented to the public.

The Merchants' Bank.
The stockholders of the Merchants bank held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon. The auditing committee presented a report which shows the bank to be in a satisfactory condition. C. W. Hoyt tendered his resignation as president and H. H. Phelps was elected to fill the vacancy. An adjourned meeting will be held later for the election of directors and other officers. Mr. Hoyt will open an office in the Manufacturers' bank building and resume the practice of law.

WHEAT DULL AND LOWER.

The Market Was Flat and Dull, and Prices Declined.

Jan. 10.—The area of low pressure which was central yesterday morning, to the north of Montana has moved eastward and is now central over Maine, where a barometer reading of 29.22 inches is reported.

The temperature has fallen slightly in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. It has risen in all other reporting districts, and is from 25 to 35 degrees higher in the Great Missouri and Red River valleys.

Scattered snows have fallen in the lake region and rains in Tennessee.
At 7 a. m. today it was cloudy in the lake region; otherwise generally fair.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 2 degrees above zero; maximum yesterday, 6 degrees above; minimum last night zero.

DULUTH, Jan. 10.—Local forecast until 8 p. m.
Thursday: Snow tonight and Thursday morning; winds becoming brisk westerly.

The Pioneer Press company sells the best grades of coal and from the low prices now in effect
give liberal discounts for cash and make prompt deliveries. Office, 221 West Superior street.

Duluth at the Front.

Duluth has made a splendid showing in the matter of bank clearings, when compared with other cities, during the past year of 1893. The last number of Bradstreet's presents the figures for the year as well as for the month of December. While the clearings here in the month of December were less than in the corresponding month of last year, they were slightly greater than for the similar period in the "boom year" of 1890.

The figures for the twelve months are more satisfactory. Duluth's clearings for the past three years were as follows: 1893, $100,012,635; 1892, $98,326,924; 1891, $98,735,031. This indicates an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in a year of very great depression throughout the country and when nearly every other city shows a decrease. The only other Northwestern city that shows an increase is Omaha, and its gain is only $1,000,000. St. Paul's decrease for the year was nearly $4,000,000, while the clearings at Minneapolis fell off nearly $10,000,000, the decrease in each case being 21 per cent. Duluth now ranks twenty-seventh among cities of the United States in the matter of bank clearings, an excellent position for so young a city.

These statistics prove what The Herald has been asserting, that during the past year Duluth has been steadily advancing while other cities have stood still or retrograded. And there is no city in the country where the prospects of renewed activity in 1894 are greater than here in Duluth.

"Come Home, Mr. Willis."

The editor of the Louisville Times, who is a personal friend of Minister Willis, offers him excellent advice when he exclaims: "Come home, Mr. Willis!" The amazing feature of the whole case is that Mr. Willis ever accepted such a mission, because he knew before he left for Hawaii what he was expected to do.
Ex-Governor Proctor Knott, also of Kentucky, was twice pressed by President Cleveland to undertake this mission, but he absolutely declined, probably because his soul revolted at the idea of being accredited to a friendly government and at the same time being expected to negotiate for its overthrow. Mr. Willis was very unwise in accepting such a duty, and the best thing he can do now, to save what is left of his reputation for honor, is to return home immediately.

President Dole has exhibited wonderful forbearance under all the circumstances. His conductors in the provisional government have been equally patient and conservative. Most men would have resented the treatment they have received. There is not another government upon the face of the earth which would not at once have given Mr.
Willis his passports and requested his instant departure, when it was found he was in direct official intercourse with the enemies of the government to which he was accredited.

Depression in England.

The past year has been a trying one in business circles in this country, but reports from other countries show that it has been equally severe in other portions of the world. The London Times asserts that the year just closed has been a more trying one to British trade than any other year in the last decade. The Times recalls the lock-out of the Lancashire districts, the strike of the dock laborers at Hull, the lock-out on the Midland coal fields, and the attendant strikes in the coal fields of South Wales and Scotland, saying that these all dislocated trade, which was further disturbed by the long series of bank failures in Australia, by the depression in American railway stocks and by home investment troubles, depleting incomes and forcing economy on large numbers of English people.

In addition, British manufacturers and traders have had to meet increasing foreign competition. The Kidderminster carpet trade and the screwmaking industry at Birmingham, as well as the Leicester shoe trade, it is interesting to note, have felt the effects of American competition, while the lacemakers at Nottingham have felt increasingly the competition of the continent. Sheffield has had to endure German competition in cutlery, the Yorkshire woolen trade the effects of the American financial crisis, as well as the widespread industrial depression at home, and English steelmakers have suffered from the effects of overproduction.

The inherent conditions of trade, it is said, have been generally sound, and remain so, what is now lacking being confidence and stability of affairs abroad.
In America, the journal quoted continues, the situation is clearing, and there is likely to be a revival of trade, and if uncertainty in Brazil and Argentina were removed, the deferred shipments to those countries would stimulate industry in England. The Indian financial situation, it is said, may be the retarding element, and remain so until the value of silver becomes more certain.
With abundant supplies of raw materials at almost bottom prices, and a steadily enlarging demand, the Times says, the prospect for 1894 is more promising than was that for 1893, and it adds that the cycle of depression which followed the Baring collapse in 1890 is now showing signs of exhaustion.

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, an Independent paper, thus describes the situation: "Never since the beginning of the war of the rebellion has the government of the United States been so completely demoralized as it is today. The president and the secretary of state are overcome with consternation at the results of their Hawaiian policy; the secretary of the treasury is utterly helpless in the face of the most serious financial dilemma since 1865, and the house of representatives is compelled to issue warrants for the arrest of thirty-nine of its members to compel them to consider a measure that represents the chief plank in the Democratic platform and the great issue in the last presidential campaign."

The Herald has received a communication from C. E. Holt, chairman of the committee in charge of the Friendly Inn, in which he takes exception to the reflections on the healthfulness of the arrangements there and states that the health officer has examined the premises and expressed his satisfaction with the condition of things there. This may be true of the conditions existing there now, but there was good cause for complaint on the part of the neighbors when the first item was published.

The N. O. Nelson Manufacturing company of St. Louis has given dividends to its men for the last ten years. In August the employees cheerfully accepted a cut of 25 per cent in wages. Last week the pay was restored to its former figures, and a dividend of seven per cent is announced. This incident is worthy of careful consideration by all employers and employees.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press denies the report that Mrs. F. B. Clarke, who recently left for Europe to secure need-rest after her labors at the World's fair, is about to renounce Protestantism.
Mrs. Clarke is in Dresden where her mother has resided for several years.

Kansas sarcasm is an awful thing to behold. Having been forbidden to play football the young men of the Kansas state normal school are now down on their knees in the dirt playing "Boston cincy" and "chuck."

Governor McKinley's inaugural address was notable for the absence of any appeal to partisan prejudice. It was a plain, businesslike document. Waite, Penney, Lowell, et al. should use it as a model.

The New York Sun, which claims to be Democratic, asserts that it is "the duty of every intelligent and patriotic Democrat to do his utmost to smash the Wilson bill."

A new Atlantic cable is to be laid next spring between Ireland and Nova Scotia.
The great increase of business has necessitated this addition to the cable service.

A Chicago 10-per-cent-a-month loan office was robbed of $500 worth of goods a few days ago. This is not right. Where is the boasted honor among thieves?

The dispatches today tell of several industrial establishments which have resumed operations, furnishing work for thousands of men.

Big Profits in Beet Sugar.

Omaha, Mo.—An expert beet sugar maker tells the people of Sioux City that a plant costing $125,000 will earn a net profit of 34 per cent for its owners. In addition the earning power of adjacent lands is greatly increased. All things point to the manifold advantages of beet sugar manufacture in this latitude.

The Labor Candidate.

Tommy—"Paw, what does it mean when a man runs on a ticket as a laboring man?" Mr. Figg—"It means that he has got tired of working for a living."

Or Twenty-Seven Thousand.

Superior Telegram: Seventeen hundred tax payers at Ishpeming signed a petition against free ore. Seventeen thousand taxes could be secured to a similar petition in Duluth and Superior.

An Impossible Feat.
Chicago Post: "If you will make me chairman of a committee and back me up with your churches and best citizens," said Helen Gougar at the Central Music hall meeting last night. "I will wipe out the social evil." What?
Neither sacred nor profane history has been read aright by the lady from the Hoosier capital.

Risky Business.
Cedar Rapids Gazette: It is rarely safe to investigate the private life of royal people unless the work is done under the strict supervision of the board of health. Now, there is Wales, for instance. The United States may be asked to depose him some day all because he owns and operates a second-hand reputation.

The Early Bird.
Oskaloosa Herald: Henry Watterson has been invited to deliver the Fourth of July address at Oskaloosa. He was asked to fetch the star-eyed goddess along, ad valorem duty and all. If Henry comes we'll have fried chicken and "moonshine" for him.

Next!
Boston Herald: Invitations to the White House social functions do not bear a crest of the Cleveland family as represented, but a simple ornamental design of a gilded eagle. Next narrative.

Ah Unrequited Record.
Wall Street Daily News: Archibald Angus McLeod holds the proud record of having received two railroads within ten months. This we believe has never been equaled in this or any other country.

A DIVORCE MILL.
A Winnipeg Rabbi Who is Working it for All it is Worth.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10.—The Tribune publishes a lengthy exposure of the practice of granting divorces in the city that has been going on for more than a year.
These divorces were granted by a man who was generally regarded as a rabbi.
He charged all the way from $2 to $5 each and granted them on the most trivial pretexts. Wives objected, but were finally overcome as it was represented to them as their spiritual duty to obey.
In consequence a number of citizens are known to be living in a state of bigamy.
A short time ago a man came from St. Paul to seek a divorce in this city.
His wife followed him here and before the divorce was given to enable her husband to remarry she applied to the priest and said there were no grounds for the divorce. The priest was inexorable, accepted the fee and granted the divorce, and a man married another woman shortly afterwards. Wife No. 1 was surprised satisfied with receiving a small sum of money from her husband. Further interesting developments are promised.

An Old Editorial Friend of the Minister Talks Plainly.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 10.—The Times, the leading afternoon paper of this city, whose editor is an old friend of Minister Willis, published the following as its leading editorial yesterday:
"Come home, Mr. Willis. The Hawaiian government, to which Minister Willis was accredited and to which he presented his credentials with assurance of friendship and esteem, finding that he was conspiring with his enemies and secretly seeking the restoration of the queen, 'called' him. Being somewhat familiar with the game, the minister tried a grand bluff that would not work and ignominiously laid down his hands."
"In mitigation of such an act of diplomacy, it may be and should be said that our minister was merely carrying out the instructions of his government, but no man of spirit should accept a mission so compromising conditions. All honor to our naval officers, who were prepared to protest against being made part and parcel of such an intrigue. You had better quit the losing game and come home, Mr. Willis."

Noted Composer Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Daily News venue correspondent reports the death of Benedict Rindhart, a musical composer, at the age of 62. Herr Rindhart was a warm friend of Schubert and the teacher of Liszt.

CAL STONE'S CIRCUIT.

The St. Paul Ticket Agent Makes an Addition to His Repertoire.

Cal Stone, the plump and popular city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific at St. Paul, has always had a hankering for the theatrical business—so much so that the space in front of his office is called the Kialto and his office the Soubrette's exchange—and now he is about to add it to his repertoire.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was a conference of theatrical managers at his place for the purpose of discussing the details necessary to the formation of what will be handed down to posterity as "Cal Stone's Circuit." Those present were F. L. Witt, of Grand Forks, J. T. Condon, of Duluth and West Superior; C. P. Walker, of Fargo; E. T. Davidson, of St. Cloud, and J. L. Snare, of Brainerd. The opera houses controlled by these gentlemen will make six one night stands and complete a most available circuit.

With the booking of attractions all in the hands of Stone, the business will be much simplified, as he will be able to offer attractions a full week, arrange all details, furnish railroad and other rates, and thus have the thing in a nutshell. This is rather a novelty.

BOGUS WHITE FISH.

Deputy Game Wardens Make a Raid on Grounds Where Tullaby Are Caught.

The state game and fish commission are informed of the capture, north of Brainerd, of a fishing outfit and a large quantity of fish, illegally taken in some of the upper lakes. The raid was one of the results of the recent trip of Game Warden F. H. Farnham.

It appears that there have been extensive fishing operations in White Fish and Ten Mile lakes, which are in the Lake Superior region. These lakes are stocked with a species of fish which nearly resemble the white fish of Lake Superior and they are easily sold to inexperienced dealers as the real white fish. They are, in fact, known as tullaby, and are really very inferior to the Lake Superior variety.

It has been a flourishing industry to capture these fish and work them off on the unsuspecting. For years it has been the practice to take these fish in the winter time and ship them while frozen, some of them to Minneapolis and some of them to Duluth and Superior. Recently, however, they are returned to Minneapolis. The winter fishing has been heretofore done through the ice, and carried on extensively by the Indians. Recently, however, nets have been utilized, and the deputy wardens, who make this report to the state commission, have captured several hundred feet of these nets. The lakes are far inland, and until now there has been no determined practical effort to stop the practice.

There are a few other lakes in that part of the country which contain the tullaby, but not in any great quantities. From this time on the bogus Lake Superior white fish will be less numerous in the market and in the restaurant.

The Lakeside Annual.
At the annual meeting of the Lakeside Land company held yesterday D. G. Cash was elected president and treasurer and W. C. Sargent, secretary and general manager. C. R. Haines was elected a director in place of Judge Stearns, but with this exception the old board was entirely re-elected.

Have You Any Work?
Are there any families in Duluth who would like a man to do odd work around the house, such as taking care of the fires, carpenter work, etc., by the week or month? If so, the Associated Charities would be glad to supply their need. There are several men who have been ill, and are out of work, who would be greatly helped in this way. Please send word to 315 Woodbridge building.

LETTERS.
St. Louis, Jan. 10.—The decision at Washington in regard to would-be purchasers of "green goods" promises to result sensationally. Inquiry at the office of Inspector J. P. Johnson yesterday developed the fact that among a total of 180 names in the possession of the office are included a great number of prominent men. Leading physicians, lawyers and other professional and business men all over the United States and particularly in Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas and Wyoming are known to be included.

It was also stated that letters applying for bogus money written by at least one ex-congressman, candidate for governor, and many federal and civic leaders are in the hands of the authorities. The inspector, however, refused to give out the names of those against whom he would make test cases.

Mr. Holmes Explains.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Your report of the matter of the return of forfeiture to me by the school board is misleading. I did not ask the return of the money because "hard times" were making it impossible to sell the bonds. I had the bonds sold before I bought them, but when I came to deliver them the proceeds of the board's sale were not in strict compliance with the law and the purchaser's attorney refused to advise that the bonds were legal. I then expended $675 in attorneys' opinions to establish the legality of the bonds and again had a sale completed, and second purchaser was hustling over the East to raise the money to pay the $200,000 when I received notice that the board had declared my contract forfeited when five days overdue, and had sent a man East to sell the bonds! This, of course, cancelled my second sale. The member of the board who came to New York was instructed to make immediate sale, and I sold $100,000 of the bonds for him after bankers in New York had convinced him that a sale at that time could not be made.

I afterwards contracted to sell the remaining $100,000 bonds to some parties at a fair price, but the board refused to sell the sale and afterwards sold some bonds to other parties at slightly lower prices. The board of education acted within their legal rights and under the advice of certain members who, at least, would not sit up nights to further my interests. The majority of the present board, however, under the circumstances in the case did not warrant the hasty, hostile action which was taken, and have voted to return $500 of the $600 which I have invested in the matter. I think any fair-minded man will say that the other $530 should be returned also.

The American Loan and Trust company and Duluth Loan, Deposit and Trust company contracted to buy all improved bonds of the city of Duluth for 1903 at par. The stringent market came on and those institutions failed to take the bonds as agreed. The contract to take these bonds was made the same bonds to some parties at 90. The same institutions also contracted to cash all city orders unpaid by the city in 1903. They also failed to keep this contract and many citizens of Duluth suffered loss in consequence, yet the financial stringency was considered sufficient excuse for their institutions to repudiate their contracts, and I have not seen a man who blames the city officials for allowing the contracts to be repudiated. In my case I did not ask to be allowed to cancel my contract without cost to me. I simply asked for more time in which to overcome the effects of the irregularities of the action of the board in issuing the bonds.

A bond dealer's reputation for promptness in meeting his obligations is his "stock in trade." I have bought over $1,800,000 of municipal bonds of Duluth, Lakeside, West Duluth and Superior in the past two years, besides many large issues of other cities, and have paid for them without an hour's delay after delivery as contracted. In the matter of these school bonds the board has my "pound of flesh," but I object to losing my "stock in trade," also. I can still pay for coal and flour for my family and help the poor in some slight degree, yet the feeling that one has lost $3500 unjustly, though possibly legally forfeited, is a "condition" not pleasant for reminiscence. Respectfully yours, W. J. HOLMES.

A Friendly Action.

MARIETTA, O., Jan. 10.—The United Terminal Railway company's interest was Monday placed in the hands of a receiver, T. D. Dale being appointed. This step was taken as a friendly act by the stockholders to get the property in the hands of one person, it being contended that the office of the company, 477 Lyceum building, in the city of Duluth, state of Minnesota, on the tenth day of January, 1894, at two o'clock p. m., the transfer books will be closed at noon on December 30th, 1893, and reopened on January 1st, 1894, at ten o'clock a. m.

CLAIMS A HOMESTEAD.

E. P. Emerson Objects To Being Put Out of the Spalding Hotel.

Another move in the Spalding hotel litigation is the filing of a petition on the part of E. P. Emerson claiming that the private suite of rooms in the hotel and private dining room occupied by himself and wife constitute their homestead and that they cannot be put out of them by the receiver. Mr. Silvey, it is claimed in the petition, served notice on Mr. Emerson that he must pay $5 per day for the rooms after Jan. 1. The further claim is set up that Mr. Emerson is entitled to food and fuel for one year under the statute allowing an insolvent one year's living from food and fuel on hand. The allegation is made that at the time Receiver Silvey took hold there was a large amount of both on hand which has since been used in conducting the hotel.

The case will be heard on Saturday, Jan. 20, and will be watched with interest, involving as it does some peculiar points.

HUNDREDS WANT WORK

Great Crowd of Men at the City Hall This Morning Putting in Applications For Work.

Some of the Kickers Were There, Too, Who Thought the Rate of Wages Too Low.

Lists of Men Needing Work Have Been Furnished by the Associated Charities and Superintendent Clark.

The members of the board of public works and Secretary Abell, it is safe to say, will earn their salaries for the next few weeks. This morning before daylight the vicinity of the city hall was crowded with men eager to get a chance to be put to work. By an unfortunate error the impression prevailed that the pay for an 8-hour day would be $1.50, and no little dissatisfaction was felt when the city officials, having fought their way to their offices, announced that the rate of pay would be $1.25 a day. The usual blatant jawsmith was of course in the crowd, in fact there were several of them. They were at once informed, jointly and severally, that they need not accept any work at all unless they chose, and that if they wanted to organize a strike against charity to go ahead. This quieted all further demonstrations and the work of enrolling the men began.

The plan is this. Lists made by the Associated Charities and the county superintendent of poor have been handed to the members of the board of public works. All these men get tickets without further inquiry. Those not on the lists give their name, address and other particulars to the board, and these will be verified later, unless the man is vouched for by some person who is well known. The object of these precautions is twofold: First, to ensure that all the married men get the first chance of employment, and second, that all those being employed are bona-fide residents of Duluth. About 600 names were taken yesterday from the lists sent in and today

The work furnished to the men will be the breaking of rock into suitable dimensions for rubble building stone or for macadamizing the streets. To supply this rock a good deal of blasting must first be done, blacksmith's shop, tool house, etc., have to be built and the work systematically laid out, so that it will be some days yet before the whole of the men already listed can expect to be employed. A man will be given work for twelve days or two working weeks, and then he will have to give place to another and await his turn for a chance to get on again. This will be the rule at first, but afterwards enough will probably be found to keep the whole army busy. Rock blasting will be commenced at once on Cascade square by Foreman Emil Schlander; at Eighth avenue west and Superior street, by Foreman C. B. Lindberg; at Fifteenth avenue west and First street by Foreman Dan Danielson; and at West Duluth by Foreman Arthur Briggs. Married men at all times will have the preference over single men and boys.

Alderman Cox, who with the assistance of Officer John Drennan was busy in preserving order among the crowd, said that yesterday and today he had taken down 381 names at his own house. He also said that some of the applicants for work had charged that a cash from $1.50 to $1.25 had been made because men were plenty, and that he had had hard work to convince them that such was not the case. At 3 o'clock today the board took names and the members went around to the points mentioned above to select the places where work should be commenced, and to arrange for the care and storage of tools and material.

The crowd today was mostly composed of Scandinavians, although there were a good many Poles and Germans among them. The Italians were conspicuous by their absence, and on the whole it was an orderly and respectable body of workmen, and one that would average up well with any gang of men ever employed in this city.

Will Commence Tomorrow.

The plans for obtaining the signatures to the monster petition, to be sent to the Minnesota delegation in congress, are now matured, and work will be commenced tomorrow. Every legal voter in Duluth, from Ely in the northeast to Fond du Lac in the southwest, will be asked to sign the memorial, which will protest against putting ore on the free list. No effort will be spared to give every man a chance.

Cheap Rates to California.

The Northern Pacific railroad has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until April 30, 1894, and are good for stop over under certain conditions.

These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California or to visit the midwinter fair to be held at San Francisco. THE FIGHT WILL COME OFF.

No Law in Florida Under Which the Governor Can Prevent It.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—The Duval Athletic club will issue another statement late today. Manager Bowden has wired Governor Mitchell for permission to make public a letter received from him Jan. 3, in regard to the fight.

In this statement the club will charge that Mitchell has gone out of his way to maliciously embarrass the club in this contest, and will give the details of the club's conference with the authorities. Governor Mitchell's letters and telegrams, it is believed, are of a spicy nature.

The club professes to be able to pull the fight off, while the sheriff and other officers say they will prevent it by all means in their power. The opinion prevails that the fight will come off, as there seems to be no law under which the governor can prevent it.

Then he forced her to go to her bedroom and give him $475, which she had been saving for years.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 11.—The storm which was central yesterday morning in Manitoba has moved to the northwest of Lake Superior, causing light to light winds over the lake region during the night and snow flurries over Lake Superior.
Rain has fallen in Tennessee and Arkansas.
The temperature is 10 to 30 degrees lower in North Dakota and Manitoba than in the Mississippi, Lower Missouri and Ohio valleys.
The lake region, except on southwest coast of Lake Superior, has been clear and cold since yesterday below zero this morning. In the United States are St. Vincent, Minn., and Lander, Wyo.
Duluth, temperature at 7 p. m. today, 2 degrees above zero; maximum last night 22 degrees above; minimum 7 degrees below; melted snow fall .01 inch.

DULUTH, Jan. 11.—Local forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, colder tonight, followed by rising temperature Friday afternoon; northwest winds becoming light and variable.

The Pioneer Press reports the latest forecast of coal and from the low prices now in effect

The Demagogues at Work.

The supervisors of Douglas county got together again and by a narrow majority voted to ask congress to give the counties the right to build or grant power to a private company to build a bridge between Rice's and Connors' points. Now the parties on this side of the bay who are in the game will probably try to get the St. Louis county commissioners to pass a similar resolution.

The trick is too transparent, however, for the senators and representatives to be misled by the deceptive plea that the men, who have been engineering this game are solicitous about the interests of the public. Their talk of protecting the public from losing a valuable franchise is but a blind to conceal their own scheme to get a finger in the pie and make a few thousand dollars each.

But this is always the way with your smug demagogue. He can talk very glibly about his great work on behalf of the public and he can tear the air to tatters with his denunciations of those wicked people who are "trying to grab franchises" and the "monopoly-controlled newspapers who are aiding their designs," but back of it is always concealed a good sized Ethiopian in the woodpile.

While they are theatrically posing for effect, they are not losing any opportunity to feather their own nests and the more successful they are in making some people believe in their hypocritical pretensions of honesty and public spontaneity the greater their chances of making a good haul.

There are several of these rascally demagogues in Duluth, but most people have perceived their object and their hollowness and insincerity of their pretensions and have them marked. They have deceived and are still deceiving some honest people who have been misled by their plausible language but like all other hypocrites will assuredly be found out before long even by those who are now carried away by their smooth manner and oily talk.

"West Ender's" Tirade.

The Herald feels crushed, almost annihilated, by the withering fire of an anonymous correspondent who penned a communication in this morning's News Tribune. That the Herald should have dared to express an opinion that the withdrawal of Alderman Howard left a fairly clear field to Capt. Ray L. Lewis for the Republican nomination for mayor is really distressing, and if the idea had ever occurred that it would have resulted in "West Ender" inflicting such a senseless tirade upon an inoffensive people the Herald would have hesi-tated long before provoking such a dire calamity.

As the Herald, however, did not urge the selection of Capt. Lewis by the Republicans as their candidate, "West Ender" is clearly stretching the truth when he says this paper tried to "dictate to the Republicans who shall or who shall not be their candidate." The Herald is not attempting to force any candidate upon the Republican party, inasmuch as it is entirely opposed to the introduction of party politics into municipal elections.
For the same reason it would not try to dictate who shall be the Democratic candidate or the Populist candidate. Its chief concern is that, since party politics are being introduced, each party shall put up a first-class candidate. Then the citizens can make their choice, and it will not matter very much which one of the three is elected. Whatever the result, the city will be assured of a good executive.

"West Ender" evidently does not appreciate the difference between a statement of fact and an editorial expression of opinion that a certain candidate should be selected. As a matter of news, the Herald said that Alderman Howard's withdrawal cleared the field for Capt.
Lewis. This is a fact which every unprejudiced man who surveys the field must admit. Yet this does not debar

"West Ender" from boasting his own favorite candidate, nor would it prevent The Herald from supporting any better man who entered the field.

The Rich Man's Tax.

An income tax may be an odious form of taxation. Those who denounce it probably have good foundation for their objections to it. But in the form which the house committee on ways and means proposes to present it, many of its objectionable features are removed, because it will apply solely to those who are able to stand it. Chairman Wilson stated in his opening speech on the tariff bill that the internal revenue measure that will follow will provide for a 2 per cent tax on incomes of $1000 and over.
Of course the people who are fortunate in having good-sized incomes will kick, but the masses of the public will not object.

As the Chicago Times points out, the tax of 2 per cent upon incomes of $1000 or over falls upon people who can best bear it. A tax upon sugar, coffee and tea would fall most heavily upon people who can least afford to pay it. The man of small means, the laborer with a slender wage of $4 a day, is more apt than that of the wealthier classes to be a man of large family. A tax of 5 cents a pound on coffee used in his family, 15 cents a pound on tea and one-half a cent a pound on sugar would exact from him frequently more in actual amount than that paid by men of ten times his income and be a vastly greater burden relatively.

The Contest Ended.

The Herald's contest for the most popular candidate for the majority came to a close last evening, and the winner was George W. Stevens, who is at the head of the Cranberry Lumber company and is the well known president of the Young Men's Christian association in this city.

The contest aroused much interest and at various times during its continuance was quite exciting, two or three gentlemen alternating in the lead. Finally Mr. Stevens got a long lead in the race and maintained it to the close last evening. The total number of votes cast was 52,285, of which Mr. Stevens received 21,111 and his nearest competitor 17,916.

The idiosyncrasies of English justice chronicled weekly by Henry Labouchere in his London Truth, can hardly furnish a more peculiar instance of discrepancy of sentence than the following: In the same court in Omaha, Neb., in which the president of the Capital National bank of Lincoln was recently sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for stealing $100,000, a South Dakota cowboy was last week sentenced for life for having stolen one cent. The cowboy, it should be explained, held up a mail carrier, and this sum was the net result of his raid.
No lesser penalty was provided for the crime by statute.

Senator Davis began an able speech yesterday in the senate with reference to the Hawaiian question. He confined his criticisms to the records submitted to congress by the state department and showed from Mr. Blount's report that the conclusions reached by that gentleman were not sustained by the evidence which he (Blount) presented. Like all the speeches which he has delivered in the senate, this effort by Minnesota's senior senator was exhaustive and convincing.

A correspondent urges that care should be taken by the board of works to give work only to men who actually reside here, and that married men be given the preference. This is the plan that has been adopted. Careful investigation has been made into each case so that there will be no imposition. Men who may come here from other cities expecting to get jobs at this work will be disappointed.

A dispatch from Augusta, Me., tells of the sentencing of a woman who has been doing a heavy business selling liquor to Keely graduates. But it is quite beyond ordinary comprehension that men should buy liquor surreptitiously after having been thoroughly cured of the liquor habit, especially in view of the fact that the Keely treatment, upon the free admission of its firmest advocates, is infallible.

Mr. Willis' demand upon the provisional government reminds the Chicago Times how near Mr. Smith once came to owning a horse. He stopped a stranger driving a beautiful roadster and asked him please to give it to him. The man said: "No, not by a sight." If he'd said "yes" the horse would have been Smith's.

President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham have made a terrible botch of the Hawaiian business. They made a big bluff at the provisional government and when President Dole called it they were forced to lie down and leave the decision to congress. Congress will never vote to use force to put Queen Lili-back on the throne.

Ornithologists are quoted as estimating the number of birds "annually sacrificed" to the vanity of the women of America" at $200,000. If this is so, it is lucky for the birds that the vanities of the men of America do not include a desire for feathers in their headgear.

There are a number of books in raised letters in the public library at Boston, and blind persons using them have been dependent upon other persons to find them. Now a catalogue in raised letters has been printed, so that the blind can find their own books in the library in the same manner that seeing people find them.

The tone of the anarchist papers in Paris has moderated greatly since the passage of the new press law. These blood-thirsty ruffians who are so anxious for other people to throw bombs tremble in their boots at the sight of a single officer.

The Minneapolis Journal yesterday sprung its annual joke about navigation being frozen to the bottom at Duluth, which is a sign that winter has fairly begun.

The crania of Russia is said to do all her husband's typewriting. She evidently does not propose to have any cause for jealousy of his imperial majesty.

A dispatch today reports that Lillian Russell is about to be married again.
"Aisy, fairy Lillian" has a very captivating manner.

Democracy's Tenure. This brief report of a conversation between Attorney General Smith, of Hawaii, and the United States minister is suggestive.

Mr. Smith intimated that his government could wait for a Republican administration at Washington to grant an amnesty. Mr. Willis declared that the Democratic party was assured of twenty years of power and that the will of President Cleveland would prevail.

If the will of President Cleveland be allowed to prevail the power of the Democratic party in congress will continue until the next congressional elections come. Mr. Willis declared that the president and no longer, within the White House Democratic tenancy will end March 4, 1897.

They Don't Like It. St. Cloud Journal-Press: When Congressman Baldwin hears from the G. A.
R. boys of this district he will wish that his "maiden speech" in congress had "died a-borning."

What He Said. Waseca Radical: Congressman Baldwin, of this state, is a good one. In his speech in the house last week on pensions, he said: "It is a mistake to say soldiers had a hard time in the war. The expensive made them tough, and assisted in prolonging their lives. Instead of hard trials, the service was a prolonged picnic, and the soldiers are better off in health for the service."

Not Identical. Indianapolis Journal: "What a commotion of joy there must have been in heaven the day of Pentecost," says the Ram's Horn of this week. But probably this pious paper is not alluding to a recent event in Tammany circles.

How He Controlled Them. Indianapolis Journal: Visitor: "How beautifully still the children sit while you talk to them?" Sunday school superintendent: "Yes, I've got them pretty well trained. I told them right at the start that every time I caught a boy squirreling around in his seat while I was making a speech I would talk ten minutes longer."

He Has Feminine Sympathy. Atchison Globe: The women of Kansas extend a hand of sympathy to Governor Lewelling. They know what it is to have trouble with hired girls.

Is Kosuth Dead? VENONA, Kan. A dispatch from Buda Pest says that a rumor is current in that city that Louis Kosuth, the Hungarian patriot, is dead. There has been no official confirmation of the report.

Pensions Granted. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The following pensions were granted today: Minn-sota—Calvin Timmerman, Minneapolis; Charlotte M. Weaver, St. Paul; Wisconsin—Henry Schulz, Mauston; John Kraus, Merrill.

PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

It is Proving So Every Day by Its Grand Work.

Still Other Evidence of the Wide-Spread Public Good it is Doing.

Enthusiastic and Unanimous Verdict From the Whole Country.

Never in the annals of history have there been recorded so many and so remarkable cures as are being effected by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It has proved itself to be wonderful work in restoring health to the sick to be the greatest, grandest, and most marvellous medical discovery in the world's history.

It is curing the sick by the hundreds of thousands. Sufferers everywhere are eagerly seeking its health-giving virtues, and druggists say that there was never before such an enormous and widespread demand for any remedy.

Here are the details of the extraordinary cure of Mr. George Thomas, of Hammon, N. J. (P. O. Box 490) precisely as he stated the facts to the writer.

"For eighteen months," he said, "I did not know what it was to sleep. I would go to bed and roll and toss all night with aches and pains.

"I doctored with five physicians of our town, without any benefit. The last doctor told me I could not live the summer out.

GEORGE THOMAS.

"I tell away from 165 pound to 100 pounds, so you see I lost nearly one-half my flesh.

"I was treated in two hospitals without any benefit, the Hammon hospital and Cooper hospital of Camden, and they did me no good.

"I began to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and have gained thirty-seven pounds and can eat and sleep, and am feeling first-class. Words cannot express my thanks to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for it has saved my life."

This cure is only one in thousands which this wonderful medicine is constantly performing. If you are sick or ailing, if you have nervous weakness, blood disease, nervous debility, if you are suffering from rheumatism, weak back, kidney or liver complaint, neuralgia, or if you are weak, tired, nervous and run down, get this medicine at once.
It is purely vegetable and harmless.

It is prescribed and recommended by doctors because of its acknowledged marvellous curative power and because it is the discovery and prescription of the well-known physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York.

It is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

SIX LIVES WERE LOST.

Gale in the Harbor of Baltimore Caused the Drowning of Six Men This Morning.

Three Men Rescued by the Crew of the Police Boat and Will Probably Live.

All the Drowned Men Were British Sailors Who Were Being Rowed to Their Vessel.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 12.—This morning's gale cost six lives in Baltimore harbor. The names of the drowned are: Neal Finlayson, William H. Nelson, Robert J. Wilson, John Hughes, unknown sailor, of the British ship Marra, and Peter Saffranksi, a ferryman. Three men were rescued by the crew of the police boat Lannon. The doctors at the city hospital spent several hours in restoring animation in their almost lifeless forms. Unless pneumonia sets in they will live. Their names are: James Kerr, Harry Green and A. Verman.

The crew of the Saffranksi, the men all belonged to the British steamer Marra. At about 12 o'clock this morning the sailors employed the ferryman to row them from the foot of Broadway over to their vessel. The wind was blowing a gale. The boat was swamped before it had gone five hundred yards. The cries of the drowning men were heard on board the police boat Lannon, and its searchlight revealed the struggling men in the freezing water. One of the Lannon's boats was immediately launched, but before it reached the spot, six of the men had disappeared. In attempting the rescue of the remaining three men the boat was swamped, throwing Lieut. Napier and his two men into the water.

The crew then did noble work. Grasping the exhausted sailors, Napier and his men supported their inanimate forms and held their heads above water until their lusty yells brought help. A boat from the Marra, manned by six sailors, came none too soon. The benumbed men were hoisted on board, and conveyed to the hospital. All of the drowned seamen belonged in England.

WERE CLUBBED BY NEGROES.

A Man and His Wife and Hired Man Beaten and Robbed.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—Clubbed into unconsciousness, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Benne and a man in their employ were dangerously injured at their home, one-half mile south of Florissant, St. Louis county.

The assault was made for the purpose of robbery by four unknown negroes, who plundered the farm house, carrying off money and valuables worth about $300. The farmers of the Florissant section are in an indignant mood, and if the assailants are apprehended a lynching may be the result. Sheriff Garrett and a posse were out in the night, and the excitement in the vicinity is at a fever pitch.

The negroes entered the house at 7 o'clock, overpowered the family, and after beating Mr. and Mrs. Benne and their hired man into insensibility, ransacked the house from top to bottom. The assault was not without result. The house heard the groans of the wounded people and at once gave the alarm. It is believed the negroes will be captured.

THE LOTTERY MEN WON.

An Important Decision by United States Judge Goff.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 12.—An important decision was handed down in the United States circuit court yesterday by Judge Nathan Goff. It arose out of the United States against Paul Conrad et al, the case being otherwise known as the Louisiana lottery case. It rested upon an indictment for using the mails for unlawful purposes, under a section of the lottery law which provides that indictments may be brought in any state or district in which the mails circulated to the defendants. The defendants were accordingly dismissed.

Judge Goff in a long opinion held that prosecution could not be maintained outside the state or district in which the offense was committed, and declared so much of the lottery law as gave authority to bring indictments in any state or district in which the mails circulated to be unconstitutional. The defendants were accordingly dismissed.

A FIGHT NOT LIKELY.

General Opinion That Governor Mitchell Will Prevent It.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 12.—It is the general opinion here that Governor Mitchell proposes to stop the fight if he has to mass the entire militia of the state in Jacksonville.

No one who understood the real situation has ever believed that the contest would be permitted in Jacksonville, and if its promoters bring the men together in Florida they will have to do it secretly in the woods, so secretly that the governor can gain no inkling of where the meeting is to occur.

The governor is also credited with saying that if the fight occurs secretly, he will use every effort to land the principals and promoters in jail.

He Left a Fortune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—It has just been discovered that William Ballard, the old miner of Alder Gulch, Mont., who died here intestate, a few weeks ago and who was supposed to be a poor man, has left a fortune of over $500,000, $300,000 of which was hard cash, deposited in no less than seven banks in this city, the balance being in Spring Valley water stocks and bonds. His sister, Mrs. H. H. Kirby, of Omaha, is the only known heir-at-law.

LYCHING IN OHIO.

A Colored Murderer Hanged by an Armed and Masked Mob.

WEST UNION, O., Jan. 12.—Roscoe Parker, the colored murderer, was taken from jail and lynched early this morning by an armed and masked mob. Four weeks ago Pit Rhine and his wife, an aged couple, living at West Union, were murdered in their cabin for $10 in money—all they had. One body lay on each side of the tiny stove. A heavy club and a butcher knife had been used as the weapons of murder and the sight in the cabin was one of horror.

The threats of the aged couple were cut from ear to ear, and the murderer had not stopped there, but had fearfully beaten the bodies with a bludgeon. Suspicion pointed toward Roscoe Parker, a shiftless colored lad of 16, who had worked for the Rhines. He was examined by the coroner and was then remanded to jail.

AN OLD WOMAN CREMATED.

The Old Cream City Hotel at Milwaukee Burned Today.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 12.—Fire in the old Cream City hotel at 4 o'clock this morning burned to death Mrs. Annie Scrums, the aged mother of Dr. J. Kasten, of this city. Damage to the building was about $2000. Mrs. Scrums was 82 years old. Three months ago she had been carried out by firemen, when the hotel was partially burned.

The building was occupied by Rudolph J. Peschman and family, consisting of his wife and children. They all got out.

It was discovered by Peschman, who was awakened by blazing embers falling through the ceiling of his room. The Peschmans and Mrs. Scrums were the only occupants of the building.

Mrs. Scrums' son-in-law says she had a lot of valuable jewelry and diamonds, also a large sum of money in her room. No trace of these can be found. The coroner is investigating. The inquest is tomorrow.

THE INCOME TAX BILL.

It Will Probably Be Favored by the Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—There is a probability that the senate finance committee may report the income tax bill by the same relative votes as that by which it was adopted by the house committee. It is understood that those for it are Senators Voorhees, Harris, Vance, Vest and Jones, of Arkansas—five. The opposition will probably include the Republicans and Senator McPherson, of the Democrats—five.

The only doubtful member is Mr. Jones, of Nevada, who is credited with leaning toward the income tax, and is counted upon to vote for it. Should he do so, the vote would be 6 to 5, the same as in the house committee.

BLAND BILL FAVORED.

The House Committee on Coinage Favors the Bland Bill for Coining the Silver Bullion.

By a Strictly Silver and Anti-Silver Vote the Bill Was Passed by the Committee.

Provides That the Secretary Shall at Once Issue Silver Certificates Against the Seigniorage Silver.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The house committee on coinage, weights and measures has ordered a favorable report on the Bland bill, providing for the coining of the silver bullion now held in the treasury. The vote was 9 to 8—strictly silver and anti-silver. The bill provides that the secretary of the treasury shall immediately issue silver certificates against the seigniorage silver, amounting to $55,456,681, which shall be immediately available for the payment of current government expenses, and that the seigniorage silver issued shall be coined as fast as possible into dollars, to be held in the treasury for the redemption of the certificates.

The second section provides that the remainder of the silver bullion purchased under the Sherman act shall be coined as fast as practicable, and the dollars shall be held for the redemption of treasury notes issued for its purchase. The certificates are to be canceled as fast as the silver is coined for redemption, and silver certificates may be issued on such coin.

Mr. Bland will report the bill at the earliest possible moment, the committee being privileged in that respect. The detailed vote stood as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Kilgore, (Dem., Tex.); Bland, (Dem., Mo.); Epes, (Dem., Va.); Stone, (Dem., Ky.); Allen, (Dem., Miss.); Bankhead, (Dem., Ala.); Coffey, (Dem., Wyo.); McKelgan, (Pop., Neb.); and Sweet, (Rep., Ida.).

There was only a fair attendance in the house when it met at 11 o'clock, and after the speaker's desk had been cleared and the committee had been called for reports, without producing any, the house went into committee of the whole at 11:15 to consider the tariff bill, and Mr. Reed continued his speech, which was interrupted yesterday when the house took a recess. Messrs. Brosius, Everett, Black, of Georgia, Pendleton and Payne followed.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The senate, on motion of Mr. Gray, proceeded to the consideration of executive business, after which, after half an hour's open session, in which nothing more important occurred than the presentation of numerous petitions against the Wilson tariff bill, and the adoption of a resolution offered by Mr. Allen intended to correct a supposed misstatement in the report of the secretary of the treasury as to gold coin in the country in the fiscal year 1893.

HAWAIIAN CORRESPONDENCE.

It May Not Reach Congress Until Next Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—It is now stated on the authority of a leading member of the foreign affairs committee that the Hawaiian correspondence will not go to congress today.

The correspondence makes about 10,000 words, fully half of it consisting of Dole's reply to Willis. This it is understood, is largely made up of historical references, and the report of it has been accurately summarized in the United Press dispatches, brought by the last steamer.

STILL ALL UNCERTAINTY.

The Duval Club Laugh at Governor Mitchell's Threats.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 12.—Adj. Gen. Houston is still in the city and is rather disappointed over the result of his conference with military officers. All of them have told the general that they are in favor of the fight, and their men would be very reluctant to come out if ordered to oppose the fight, and that there would be trouble. The general says that other state troops can be brought here and will be, if the governor considers it necessary.

The Duval club laugh at these threats of the governor and says they are all bum-bum and made for effect only. They propose having the fight, they say anyway, and if prevented at the arena at the last moment will pull it off at some point near Jacksonville. They claim that the governor cannot bring troops here and that such an act would be illegal.

RESULT OF A FAMILY FEUD.

The Second Murder Within a Week Occurred This Morning.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 12.—A neighborhood and family feud resulted today in the second murder within a week. A year ago George Derr, living fifteen miles south of here, caught his sister and a prominent cattleman, of Kingfisher, in a compromising position, and assaulted Foss, nearly killing him. The whole neighborhood took sides in the matter, and many quarrels ensued. Christmas day, Derr's barn was burned, and a week ago, J. J. Derr, father of George, was assassinated in his yard. Foss was arrested on a charge of murder and his preliminary trial has not yet been completed.

Just before noon today George Derr met Foss on the street in this city and shot the whole side of his head off with a shotgun, which he was carrying for the purpose. Great excitement prevails.

The Body Found.

LUCAS, Kan., Jan. 12.—Five weeks ago Fred Dinlany, a farmer, disappeared. Yesterday his body was found in a lone grave in a field on his farm. Green Burton, one of the three men under arrest at Russell, charged with the murder, guided the finders. Little but the skeleton was left, but an oblong hole two or three inches long on the top of the skull indicated what was the cause of his death.

Mr. Meier Not to Blame.

Alderman Sorensen says that a little item printed in one of Duluth's papers does an injustice to William Meier who, until yesterday, has conducted a saloon at No. 358 Lake avenue. Yesterday, he moved to Onetona and opened a place there. The item stated that within one hour after he opened his place of business at Onetona, a row occurred and a man named Lloyd had a thumb nearly bitten off. The fight really occurred on Lake avenue and was participated in by several irresponsible bums who hung around, picking up such free drinks as they could amidst the confusion of moving. Mr. Meier was in no way connected with or responsible for the fuss and no one was badly bitten, either.

BRIBERY IS CHARGED.

Serious Charges Are Made Against Alderman Harry Franklin, of St. Paul, by an Evening Newspaper.

The Bribe Was for Suppression of an Ordinance That Would Oust the Present Incumbents.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 12.—The Daily News today prints sensational charges against Alderman Harry Franklin, of the "reform" regime. The article alleges that for many months Franklin has been accepting a monthly bribe of $25 from the members of the building inspector's office for the suppression of an ordinance in the council that, if passed, would legislate the present incumbents of the building inspector's department out of office. It is also alleged that in further consideration of the bribe, Franklin was to secure Building Inspector Morris' reappointment at an election which occurred a few days ago by a secret ballot. The "reform" alderman, however, did not act in good faith and an outsider was elected.

HELD UP AN OPERATOR.

Attempt to Rob the Northwestern Depot at Racine.

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 12.—A bold attempt was made yesterday morning to rob the safe in the Chicago & Northwestern depot here. According to the story told by T. W. Stewart, the night operator, about 2:45 o'clock, just after the freight train had passed, a man entered the waiting room and knocked on the door of the ticket office.

The stranger said a man had been run over and needed help. Stewart put on his coat and started for the door, but as he did so the stranger covered him with a revolver. Just then two accomplices of the man put in an appearance, both armed with guns.

Stewart was compelled to give up his keys and made to return to the ticket office. The men demanded that he open the safe, but he informed them that he did not know the combination. They threatened to kill him, but he finally succeeded in convincing them that he was telling the truth. The robbers then ransacked the office, taking a revolver and a few minor articles.

The man who does not love his fatherland is not worthy of God's blessing.'"

CALCUTTA, Jan. 12.—At a meeting of the legislative council yesterday Fazal-ul-Ahram, a member of the viceroy's council, asked whether the government meant to impose an import duty on silver. Mr. Westland replied that the government was unable to make any statement that would lead to its discretion in the future.

TIRED OF PAUPERISM.

Chicago Will be the Scene of an Unusual Labor Demonstration on Next Monday Night.

The Unemployed Will March to the City Hall and Ask the Council for Work.

They Want No More Charity, But Desire to Earn a Living for Their Families.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Monday night the streets of Chicago will be the scene of an unusual labor demonstration. The unemployed workmen will march in a body to the city hall and ask Mayor Hopkins and the city council to do something by which they may be given employment. They say they are tired of pauperism and want no more charity to aid them. They simply want work in order to earn a livelihood for themselves and their starving families.

This great labor parade will take place under the auspices of the Central Labor union, which has decided to present to the mayor and city council a petition asking the city government to appoint a special council committee to investigate the conditions and needs of the unemployed.

The unemployed will march to the city hall as an escort to a committee who will deliver the petition to the mayor and council. In the petition, the unemployed claim the deplorable and desperate economic and social conditions in which they are placed, as well known to the people at large in this city, are a disgrace and a general way. The methods of relief, such as soup houses, woodyards and street sweeping, they say, are degrading to the recipients, for it is an American and disgraceful.

They will further try to show that the relief has been confined to those promptly either by a feeling of sympathy or by fear of disturbances by mobs rendered desperate by hunger.

SOUTHERN HOTEL ON FIRE.

Guests Scaled the Fire Escapes. But There Was No Necessity.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 12.—At 9:45 last night the south end of the Southern hotel building was discovered to be on fire and the wholesale house of the People's Grocery company was completely gutted of its stock before the flames could be checked. The entire south end of the building was soon an open air shaft and cost $100,000. Insurance of $12,000 was carried on the building. The stock of groceries was insured for $35,000.

KOETTING'S TEARS FLOWED.

Was Deeply Affected by the Eloquence of His Lawyer.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 12.—Tears rolled from the eyes of banker Koetting in the municipal court yesterday afternoon while his attorney was telling the jury what an excellent standing the South Side cashier had in the community before his bank collapsed. The banker realized his position more keenly than ever before, as the eloquent lawyer pictured him as he was before the panic last summer.

A jury was secured without difficulty and District Attorney Hammel outlined the plan of the state. He intimated that the state would prove that the institution had been insolvent for years. The most interesting testimony will no doubt be that which will throw light upon Koetting's disastrous plunging in the wheat pit with the money of the depositors.

America's Great Danger

AN ENGLISH COMMENTARY.

Said an eminent English scientist recently: "The danger that confronts the great American people to-day is not the possible adoption of a wrong financial policy for the nation, or the spread of socialism, or the increase of corruption, or the loss of the moral fiber. All these are bad enough, to be sure, but they are as nothing compared to the terrible national disease—I had almost said national crime—of overwork. The mad rush for wealth is set at a killing pace, and thousands fall by the way every year."

You are likely to be one of the victims!

How do we know? Because it is the exception to find a man or woman of adult age in perfect health. Nervous Disorders are spreading with fearful rapidity. Among the symptoms are—Backache, Bifuseness, Cold Hands and Feet, Dizziness, Hot Flashes, Fluttering Sensation, Fainting, Headache, Hysteria, Irritability of the Heart, Melancholy, Failing Memory, Palpitation, Rheumatism, Short Breath, Sleeplessness, Nervous Dyspepsia, Sexual Debility, Fits, etc.

Rev. C. A. CARROLL, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system. I have not found it acting in any other way. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is the only medicine I have used that will not only cure but prevent the disease. It is the best of all medicines."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration. I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve gave me relief, and one thousand dollars would not overvalue the good it has done me."—JOHN MINCHER, Youngstown, Ohio.

FEDERAL ELECTION LAWS.

Minority Report of the Senate Committee on the Repeal Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Just before the senate went into executive session yesterday afternoon, Mr. Chandler laid before that body the minority report of the committee on privileges and elections on the bill to repeal the federal election laws. It is a typewritten document of about seventy-five pages and begins with a reference to the attempt in 1890 to pass the so-called force bill, citing the provisions of that proposed law.

Concerning it the committee says: "It is not likely that this particular measure will ever be revived. The control of national legislation in this country will be for some time beyond the grasp of the Republican party, and we believe that it is the desire of the majority of the people that the experiment should be fully tried whether existing laws and an improving public sentiment will not cure the evils complained."

"But the question now raised," continues the committee, "is a wholly different one. It is proposed to overthrow all the existing provisions of national legislation for securing honesty in elections for members of the national house of representatives." The report continues: "But whatever may be the motives of the authors, the repeal bill itself is an unprovoked and needless movement to stir up sectional bitterness, to degrade the national authority and to encourage fraud, intimidation and violence in elections. The laws are to be destroyed for the purpose of offensively reasserting the old dogma of state sovereignty under which the attempted dissolution of the Union was defended in 1861."

A TUG OF WAR.

In Which Many Were Engaged, With Dr. Yeager's Residence Bell Rung.

It was late one night during the fair when Dr. Yeager's residence bell was rung. The visitor was a messenger from Manager Penny of the Dahomey village, asking the physician to come to the village and attend a patient suffering from the toothache. The doctor went more for the sake of the adventure than for the fee. He was shown to the bedside of the woman and proceeded to examine the big teeth, which were in a mouth that opened like a cellar door. To make sure which was the offending tooth, Dr. Yeager began prying around with his little steel instrument so familiar to all who have visited the chamber of a dentist known as a dentist's parlor. He accidentally touched the nerve of the aching molar, and the amazon let loose a yell that drew to her side every member of the village.

It was an excited and wildly demonstrative crowd that danced about the woman's bedside. Dr. Yeager coolly continued his work, however, and finally before the woman could prevent him he had sneaked from his pocket a pair of shining forceps and hooked on to the pain producing worry. Sari was not astonished, but she was hurt. As the steel instrument went crashing into the gum surrounding the aching tooth the brave woman set up a howl that set every one of her sisters and the black men wild with excitement. The louder the amazon yelled the harder Dr. Yeager pulled. She struck wildly at the man at the other end of the forceps, but the doctor's dodging powers are as acute as they were the day he left the college football team.

She finally leaped from the cot on which she reclined, and still the doctor pulled at the molar. Sari struck viciously at her torturer, but here the doctor showed great strategy by keeping the woman's head so far in advance of her body that the blows fell short. Around and around the village went the doctor and the patient. The former tugged and kept cool. The woman made the night hideous with her cries and grew angrier every moment. Still the molar held its own. The men in the village danced about the struggling doctor and amazon and expressed their delight at the spectacle in wild dances and peculiar cries.

The end came at last and in a most unexpected manner. Some of the villagers, perceiving that the doctor's strength was almost exhausted and admiring the pluck he demonstrated by holding on as long as he had, decided to take the matter in hand, separate the man of medicine from the insanely angry woman and at the same time protect the former from injury. Three or four men seized the doctor, and two amazons seized the woman. The two parties pulled in opposite directions, and suddenly the bond that united the doctor and the aching molar was broken. At the same instant the woman was thrown over the heads of the attacking party at her rear, and the doctor went sailing over the shoulders of those who had seized him.

A moment later Dr. Yeager was seen sitting on the ground holding aloft the forceps, from which projected the offending ivory that once adorned the mouth of the troubled amazon.—Chicago Herald.

She Thought a Doorbell.

Agent—Beg pardon, ma'am, but I have been requested by a number of persons to call here and show you our new patent electric wake-the-dead doorbell. It's very hard on hands to have to knock, ma'am, and everybody says the only reason you haven't a bell is because you never thought of it.

Housekeeper—That's very true. I really had forgotten that there was no bell. Put one in.

Agent (half an hour later)—It's all done, ma'am. Here's the bill. Thank you. I'll receipt it.

Housekeeper—Would you object to telling me who the persons were who complained that I had no bell?

Agent—They were peddlers, ma'am. Good day, ma'am.—New York Weekly.

Willing to Aid.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had a full stomach for three weeks.

Housekeeper (benevolently)—Too bad! Well, you go somewhere and beg a meal of dried apples, and I will furnish the water.—New York Weekly.

SAM WELSOR HANGED.

A Murderer Was Executed in St. Louis This Morning for a Crime Four Years Ago.

He Smiled to Friends in the Crowd, and to All Appearances Died Without Terror.

Welsor's Victim Was an Abandoned Woman Who Spent All His Money and Spurned Him.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—Samuel Welsor was hanged at 8:02 a. m. Welsor spent the night rather uneventfully, though he was decidedly more nervous than he had been during yesterday. At times he seemed to be sleeping soundly and peacefully, but at the slightest sound he would start and often moan for several minutes thereafter. His last night on earth was not a happy one. At 6:55 a tapping of the door was taken into Welsor's cell, and the doomed man paraded sparsely therefor.

A reporter was trying to induce Welsor to make a confession, but that, he said, he could not do, because he had already admitted having killed Clementine Manning. At 7:45 a. m. the sheriff read the death warrant which the condemned man listened attentively and without comment. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the deputy sheriffs pinioned Welsor's arms and the march to the scaffold began.

The procession was made up of deputy sheriffs, reporters and jurors to the number of about twenty-five. The little procession, in which Welsor was the central figure, wended its way out through the "bull pen," moving southwardly the greater portion of the way, then turning to the southwest, through a somewhat narrow passageway and out into the hazy cold air of the early morning with the gallows in full view of the prisoner, as he mounted a few steps from the floor of the jail proper into the yard, between Chief Desmond's office and the morgue.

At 8 o'clock Welsor mounted the gallows with a somewhat firm step, and with much cooler demeanor than had been anticipated. While the public gaze was fixed upon the gallows, and Welsor stood erect and gazed unflinchingly into the eyes of the score of people surrounding the scaffold. Just before the black cap was pulled over Welsor's face, he was cooler than at any time during the trying proceedings. He smiled to friends in the crowd, and from all appearances died without terror. At 8:02 the drop fell. His neck was broken by the fall and in ten minutes the physicians pronounced him dead.

Sam Welsor's crime was the cold-blooded murder of Clementine Manning, an abandoned woman, on Aug. 4, 1889. Seven years ago Welsor met the woman. She was then in the social gutter after a brief but wild career of debauchery, but she was handsome and mentally gifted. Above those of her class, Welsor was infatuated with her. He lavished money upon her and fitted up for her a gilded establishment on Pine street. He was then in good circumstances, owning a saloon at Tenth and Pine street.

The woman's constant demand for money at last bankrupted him, and when he had nothing more to give her she spurned him. A lucky turn of fortune again set him up in business and the liaison was renewed. Again she spurned him when his money was exhausted by her greed. For four years this was the history of their lives until Welsor disappeared three years ago. On Aug. 4, 1889, Welsor returned to the city. Having learned that Clementine had been a large sum in a lottery he went to her house and demanded a portion of her lucky winnings. She laughed at him. It was her death knell.

Like a flash Welsor seized her by the hair and threw her on the floor. With one foot planted on her upturned face, he drew a pistol and fired five times into her prostrate form. She lost consciousness, and thinking she was dead Welsor fled. He was arrested later. Clementine died next day, but signed a written statement of the facts. "Sam Welsor did it. He killed me for my money. Do you hear? I say he killed me for my money." This convicted him.

HE ROSE FROM THE RANKS.

Interesting Career of the New President of the Swiss Republic.

Emil Frey, who has just been promoted from the vice presidency to the presidency of the republic of Switzerland in accordance with the regular succession of events in that happy little country, was working as a farmhand in Illinois when our civil war broke out and enlisted as a private soldier in the northern army in July, 1861. He had completed his scholastic course in the schools of his native Basel and at the University of Zurich.

After receiving the brevet rank of colonel for meritorious services and heroic conduct during the war, Frey went back to Switzerland, where he soon became prominent in political affairs. In November of that year he was made secretary of state for the canton of Basel, and during the six succeeding years he held the office of minister of the interior, including that of president. During that period he formulated a law regulating labor in manufacturing, prohibiting the employment of children, regulating that of women and practically abolishing night work. This law aroused much animosity at the time of its passage, but a few years later Frey had the satisfaction of seeing it adopted by the federal assembly and approved by the Swiss people.

Various other progressive measures of importance were adopted by Frey's sagacity and influence. It was through his influence that the public schools were freed from church control, and he originated the "compromise" which saved the St. Gothard railway. In 1888 he resigned his office as minister to the United States, which post he occupied with great distinction for five years, and which he resigned in order to devote his time more completely to political affairs at home. Congress passed on his behalf a special act enabling his son to be educated at West Point, where he was recently graduated. President Frey was born at Aarau, Basel, Oct. 24, 1838.

THE FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Its History Identified With That of Its President, Samuel Gompers.

Samuel Gompers, who has been re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor in the face of considerable opposition, has been a prominent man in labor movements for the past 19 years or more. He used to be a cigar maker and was always active in his local union, besides being many times a delegate to the International Cigar Makers' union and serving a term as its vice president. He was president of the New York State Workmen's assembly twice and served two terms as president of the old Federation of Trade and Labor Unions. He is a strong orator and writer and is very conservative in his opinions, opposing both strikes and boycotts except as an absolutely last resort, and having faith in the accomplishment of results by strictly legitimate, peaceful methods.

Mr. Gompers is about 40 years of age. He was born in London, of German Hebrew parentage, and was apprenticed to a shoe naker when he was only 10 years old. He did not like the trade and left it to learn cigar making. He came to the United States when 18 years of age and worked as a cigar maker until he was elected to the presidency of the federation in 1881. He picked up a fair education at the night schools in his youth and has always been a reader and a thinker, as his speeches and writings show.

The American Federation of Labor owes its existence primarily to Mr. Gompers' exertions, and he has been president ever since his organization, being re-elected year after year without any serious opposition up to the recent convention, wherein he came very near being defeated. His salary is but $1,800 a year. He has several times been offered positions, political and otherwise, on the ground that acceptance would destroy his usually fine labor organizations. Governor Hill, for instance, once offered to appoint him a member of the New York state board of arbitration, with a salary of $8,000, but Mr. Gompers would not have it.

As the representative of the federation Mr. Gompers has been very active in his advocacy of legislation favorable to the interests of the working classes, but has not otherwise taken any very prominent part for some time. He was a candidate for membership in the New York constitutional convention at the late election, however, but failed of election.

As Stated in Today's News Tribune, Something was Going to Happen at the Glass Block Store, and

IT CONCERNS YOU!

This thing of buying goods is not only a question of necessity, but sometimes one of arithmetic. FOR INSTANCE, NOW, if you should put $10.00 in a savings bank for one year at 6 per cent interest, it would pay you but 60 cents on the investment. If, however, you should conclude to deposit your $10.00 with us during this Great Inventory and Remnant Sale of ours, we will give you $20.00 worth of goods for it. That certainly beats the bank! In fact, in some instances we will do even better, for we have decided to close out all our REMNANTS, BROKEN LOTS, ODD SIZES, SINGLE PIECES, ETC., previous to taking our annual inventory January 31st, AT ANY PRICE. Furthermore, we will not confine ourselves solely to the above, but will also convert into cash all winter goods and everything we have too much of.

The Actual Cost of the Goods We Will Ignore Entirely, It is the Hard Cash We Want

The Cost of Mining.
The Minneapolis Tribune asks, in an editorial of a late date, why can Minnesota, when paying an average daily wage per miner of $1.85, compete with Pennsylvania in her own market, when the latter only pays a miner an average of 85 cents per diem? The Tribune answers the question in its own way and displays its intense ignorance of all and every thing pertaining to iron ore and iron ore mining.

The true reason that Minnesota ores can compete with those of Pennsylvania is because the quality of the ore mined in St. Louis county, Minn., is better than the Eastern ore and also because the deposits are larger. That is to say, a ton of ore carrying 65 per cent of metallic iron is intrinsically worth more than a ton yielding only 42 per cent of metallic iron.

Again the immense deposits of ore in this country rendering cheaper, because $1.85 will break more ground and yield a greater output in a day than twice 85 cents will do in the small mines in Pennsylvania, with their narrow veins and high lifts to reach the stock pile.

This, however, does not have any bearing on the importation of foreign ore free of duty, as the same advantages are to be had in Cuba as in St. Louis county, Minnesota, and every ton of Cuban ore landed in the United States, which is mined by foreigners and paid for by foreigners means that a ton less of American ore is to be mined by free American labor and that the American laborer loses so much wages, and the American mine owner so much return for his investment.

The Tribune goes on to state that the Rockefeller interest has purchased the product of the principal mine on the Mesaba range for "50 cents on cars." This is not true and cannot possibly be true. By the "Rockefeller interest" probably the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron company is meant, and it owns a controlling interest in all mines in which it is interested. The Tribune is probably thinking about a royalty of 50 cents which is about the average royalty paid by the miners of ore to the owners of the fee simple of the lands containing the mines, and has confounded this royalty with the mining cost of the ore.
The state exacts a royalty of 25 cents per ton on all ore mined on lands leased from the state and a tax of 2 cents per ton on all ore mined in this country, making a minimum prime cost of 27 cents per ton for all ore mined. Add to this the cost of transporting, stripping, assays, superintendence and labor, and anyone who knows a mine from a soup bone will tell you that the talk of ore being sold at 50 cents per ton on the cars is the acme of rhodomontade.

It is true that in some of the Mesaba mines the actual cost of lifting the stripped ore from the bed, by means of a steam shovel and dropping it into a car, does not exceed 25 cents per ton, but that operation is the least expensive part of the full operation of mining a ton of ore. But even supposing it should be true that it costs very little to mine ore in Minnesota, will it profit the state and her citizens if the quantity of ore so mined be reduced? Will anyone, except the Canadians, profit because mining operations competitive with and hostile to those in this country become possible and profitable? The answer to this is obvious, but the Tribune, ever zealous in supporting any measure that may be inimical to the prosperity of Duluth, hastens to advocate free ore and the payment of wages and profits to foreigners instead of to the citizens of the state in which it is and has its being. The whole course pursued by the Tribune in dealing with the ore question has been marked by displays of ignorance, varied by petty spite at St. Louis county, the only ore producing county in Minnesota.

A late report from Washington says the Democrats will probably adopt a duty of 1 1/2 cents per pound on sugar and abolish the bounty instead of levying an income tax. This is more sensible.

An income tax should not be imposed except as a last resort. It would inevitably lead to fraud, concealment and perjury, and there is enough of that in the country now.

Harrison and Hornblower.
The senate commerce committee has decided to make an adverse report upon the nomination of J. Scott Harrison, brother of ex-President Harrison, to be surveyor of customs at Kansas City.
Scott Harrison has always been regarded as one of the most prominent Democrats in Missouri, and his recognition by President Cleveland was not surprising to those who have known his activity in Missouri politics. He was in every way fitted for the position, so that there could be no objection to him on this score.
The fight against him was made purely upon partisan grounds and under circumstances which made it doubly disreputable.

The Kansas City Star is authority for this statement. It declares that the so-called offense which has created the formidable opposition Scott Harrison has encountered in the senate is the vote which he is said to have cast for his brother as president in 1892, and for Maj. Warren as governor. This was revealed to his enemies at Washington in a way which ought to have rendered the information powerless to do Mr.
Harrison any harm. It is stated upon authority which is entirely trustworthy, that the nature of Mr. Harrison's ballot, which was in the custody of the recorder of voters, was disclosed to the politicians who are hostile to the appointment, and the offer was even made at Washington to produce it to any senator who might desire to see it.
Thus, the only evidence against Mr.
Harrison, even from a partisan standpoint, was obtained in a manner so utterly scandalous and disgraceful that it could not be utilized without casting the rankiest odium upon the politicians who were seeking to make it available.
They have preferred to accept this odious and Mr. Harrison is turned down.
"Mr. Cleveland," says the Star, "had reason to know when he sent Scott Harrison's name to the senate that the latter had not supported him for president. He was aware of the fact that family ties were stronger than political bonds with Mr. Harrison, and that he had chosen to vote for his brother for president. But he knew also that Harrison's appointment was justified by sound judgment, by a thoughtful regard for the excellence of the public service, and by the character of the candidate of his choice.
That was all that the senate needed to take into the account. It has been apparent from the start that the appointment was not open to any terrible objection, that it was satisfactory to the citizens of this community as a whole, that it was a gracious act on the part of the senate, and that there was no reasonable or logical plea for opposing it."

Only a few days ago the senate judiciary committee, at the instance of Senators Hill and Murphy rejected the nomination of Mr. Hornblower, of New York, to be associate justice of the supreme court. Mr. Hornblower had incurred the enmity of these two great statesmen by opposing Judge Maynard in the last state campaign, and they demanded on the ground of "senatorial courtesy" that his nomination be rejected. Could anything be more ridiculous, or could a more humiliating spectacle be presented than the senate rejecting the nomination of an able lawyer for justice of the supreme court, because he was sufficiently brave and honest to oppose the election of a political trickster to a judicial office?
These two instances show that the senate is sadly in need of a reformation.

No Fight in Florida.
Yesterday word came from Jacksonville that the Corbett-Mitchell prize fight would be pulled off at the appointed time at the place originally selected, and that the governor of Florida would make a statement that there is no law under which he can prevent the fight.

Today the story is that Governor Mitchell will not allow the fight to occur, if he has to mass the entire state militia at Jacksonville, and that no one in that city who has known the facts has ever thought the governor would yield.
There may be no law in Florida against prize fighting, but the governor can proclaim Jacksonville under martial law.
He has this power, and when he does this it will go hard with any people who try to have a fight in that neighborhood.
The governor is noted as a resolute man who seldom retreats from any position that he assumes, and he appears determined that Florida shall not be disgraced by a slugging match between Mitchell and Corbett. All decent people will applaud his determination and wish him success in his endeavor to prevent a foul stain upon the fame of his state.

The Syracuse Standard of Dec. 31 says: "An immense hog, standing five feet high, measuring three feet across the shoulders and eight feet from the tip of his snout to his tail, arrived recently on the steamer Nomadic. He will be exhibited at the World's fair." Will not some friend whisper to the Standard that the World's fair is closed?

Elia Wheeler Wilcox tells a New York paper that "there are few real romantics nowadays, but many imitations that are wholly unlike what the genuine article should be." Perhaps she will tell who is to blame for this state of affairs?

The Psychosocial society which has been incorporated in New York has for its purpose "to seek out and externalize all possible knowledge of esoteric laws and secrets pertaining to the occult side of nature." The public can be certain of learning everything that the society discovers, because the majority of the members are women.

"Diplomatic discussions between this country and the nations of Europe will be conducted via voice by deep-sea telephones in another hundred years or less," says one of the ever-present prophecies of electricity.

The Western Passenger association is still discussing the rate for the national educational convention at Duluth next July. It is to be hoped the association will do the fair thing.

Mayor Hopkins, of Chicago, has closed all the gambling houses, but so far has not interfered with the sale of futures, which is proceeding at the old stand.

Miss Guiney, who is said to be a poetess, has been appointed postmaster at Auburndale, Mass. That she is a lady of letters cannot now be disputed.

He Got Something.
Red Wing Republican Maj. Baldwin was not rolled in the mire for nothing.
His shameful speech regarding pensions and his willingness to sacrifice his constituents to the spoils dispenser's will has earned him the contempt of his constituents. The St. Cloud Daily Times, that the boss has appointed Baldwin's man receiver of the St. Cloud land office.
Considering that the appointee is the editor of the St. Cloud Daily Times, that Cleveland needs all the newspaper support he can buy, and that Boss Doran supported the same man, the concession to Maj. Baldwin in this is not very great, but he hopes for more.

Looking For Plea.
Mankato Free Press: From all the reports which come from Washington, Congressman Baldwin, of Duluth, seems to think it more important to curry favor with the dispenser at the pie counter than to look out for the best interests of his constituents, hence he will vote for free ore.

Any Action Better Than Inaction.
Boston Congressional Bulletin: Get to a vote, gentlemen. Both sides should agree to prompt and speedy action. If you wish us to do business on the American basis, gentlemen, of congress, defeat the Wilson bill; if you wish us to do business on the foreign basis, pass the bill. At present your inaction prevents us from doing business at all.

Ripe For Anything.
Albany Evening Journal: No scheme is too absurd to be absorbed into Populism.

MURDERED HIS WIFE.
A Cincinnati Carpenter Shot His Wife and Then Himself.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—Ed Lewis, a young carpenter, and his wife have been leading an unhappy domestic life in two rear rooms on the third floor of a tenement house at 309 West Sixth street.
Yesterday Mrs. Lewis had her husband arrested for beating her.

As she was leaving home this morning for the police court with a neighbor the two women were confronted by Lewis at the bottom of the stairs. He was livid with rage. Seizing his wife by the throat he pressed a revolver against her temple and fired. As she fell, he fired a second shot through his own brain.

The Salt That's All Salt Is the salt ever one should use. The impurities in the salt which is sold in bags, of course, but dangerous also.
The best, especially in the case of much kidney disease.

Diamond Crystal Salt Is much the purest, and therefore the best salt known. Made from the best brine, by the best process, and is the best grain, and sold in the best package—an airtight glass jar with a cork stopper. Ask for Diamond Crystal.
The fact that salt is cheap is no reason why you should not have pure salt.

Dangers of Delay.

A FLAGMAN upon the New York Central Road delayed—the express rushed on and a score of lives were lost.

A NURSE GIRL neglected the child in Central Park and the little one was drowned.

A FATHER was so busy he had no time to think of himself, and so common symptoms ran into a fatal disease.

A MOTHER was so absorbed by her children that she did not notice her own danger until it was too late.

A MILLION people neglect and delay, when, if they only realized, their whole happiness and very lives are at stake.

A PAIN in the back, Lassitude, Melancholy, Faintness, Irritability, Prostration, all indicate a serious kidney difficulty.

A Headache, Coated Tongue, Irregularities, Cold Feet, Weak Pulse, Constipation, unmistakeably prove deranged kidneys or liver.

A DELAY or neglect at such a time may mean everything—may mean life or death.

A PROMPT use of the only standard remedy for such troubles, Warner's Safe Cure, is the part of wisdom.

cient." Are you one who can

Dealness Cannot be Cured
In local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. 23c Sold by druggists, 75c.

PROGRESSING SLOWLY

Getting the Idle Men at Work Requires More Time Than Many Would Suppose it Should.

Twenty-five Are at Work Clearing Snow at Cascade Square and More Will be Added Soon.

Some Preliminary Preparations Are Also Necessary Before Beginning Work on West Superior Street.

The work of getting the idle men in the city employed, under the force of circumstances, is proceeding slowly. The only ones put to work up to date, are at Cascade square and they number about twenty-five. The snow is being cleared away and soon that force will be materially increased. A blacksmith shop has been erected, drills are being made and preparations hurried as much as possible. When the work is in such shape that the face of the bank can be blasted, a "stone boat" will be made and the slate bowlders hauled out onto the level ground facing Sixth street so that a larger gang can be worked to advantage. On Cascade square, is quite an amount of loose rock taken from Piedmont avenue. A small shift of men is shoveling that over today and breaking the larger pieces.

At Superior street and the foot of Piedmont avenue a small force will soon be set at work on the face of that big cliff, but only the softer ledges will be broken. President Truelsen says that he expects to be able to employ quite a large force on Superior street and Eleventh avenue west. Within half a block of that point there will have to be a large depression filled, and as soon as a grade can be established, operations will be commenced. Every stroke of work done there will be to the best of advantage, as it must be done sooner or later.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Mary Ann Munro Divorced From Daniel Munro This Morning.
Judge Lewis granted another decree of divorce today and Mary Ann Munro is now free from the objectionable matrimonial ties which have bound her to Daniel Munro. The charge was drunkenness and cruelty. In John Rustgard vs. Edna A. Arthur judgment was granted for the amount asked for, Charles Vager vs. W. H. Consaul, et al was continued, William Plankington vs. George B. Bissell et al was passed to the foot of the calendar, and James Gibson vs. F. H. Quinby et al was stricken. Andrew P. Wilson vs. Lydia H. Roe was on trial at noon.

Before Judge Moer the arguments in the case of Charles Oldes vs. J. W. Shellenberger et al, on trial yesterday, were made. Judgment was given the plaintiff in the amount asked for, about $1400. In John J. Elliot vs. Biwabik Ore company a motion to strike out the answer was granted.

Number of Men Put at Work at the Ledge of Rock in Bellevue Addition Today.

All Are Required to Have Orders From P. O. Noben, Assistant Superintendent of Poor.

Marinette Works Has a Large Amount of Work on Hand and More in Sight.

A number of men were put at work today breaking rock under the direction of Arthur Briggs, P. O. Noben, assistant superintendent of the poor is the person to whom application should be made by those desirous of work. If the applicant can prove that he is a married man with children, and in need of work he will receive a card recommending him for employment.

A great many applications have already been received and the superintendent has already found some of them a week ahead. The yard has been finally located at the ledge of rocks in Bellevue addition at the head of Second avenue west. Some criticism has been made because of the change of location from the fact that Elinor street will have to be improved in the future through the school property and it is thought that even if the rock is harder to crush the result of the work would be more satisfactory and economical in the end. It is understood that the board of education has a petition already drawn up asking for the improvement of this thoroughfare through the school property.

THE LAND OF FLOWERS

Something about the Sunny Southland Where the Corbett-Mitchell Battle is to Be Fought.

The Governor Has Been Rubbed the Wrong Way and that is Why He is Obstinate.

At First He Looked With Little Disfavor Upon the Fight—It Will Take Place.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—I write from the sunny Southland, the land of flowers and consumptive, the state of Florida. When you folks are skating and sleighing, think of me as sailing in the St. Johns river or wheeling on the shell road. And when you Duluthians are picking berries from your whisksers, just think of me as picking flowers that bloom for ever in this mellow sunshine. My heart goes out to my friends in the hyperborean North—that land of the cedar and the pine, where the flowers seldom bloom and the sun seems loth to shine. Down here we are having midsummer sunshine, and from my window I can see dark boys and girls monkeying around in their bare feet.

A word as to myself may not be inexcusable. If so, I will give it now before I speak of matters of greater import. I have secured a fine position here as telegraph operator for one of the finest winter hotels in the South—the Windsor. It opened Thanksgiving with a grand ball in the evening. There are only two hotels in the South that employ their own operators and they are the Ponce de Leon at St. Augustine and the Windsor in this city. I receive a plump salary, with board and room, until the season closes in the spring. When you consider that the rates are $5 and upwards per day you will readily see that I am right up on the top perch.

We have two morning and two evening papers here. The latter are rather weak sisters, but the morning sheets are very creditable. The Florida Citizen is a new applicant in the ring for public favor, but an old-established paper like the Times-Union is a hard row to travel. There are dozens of idle reporters in the city now, all drawn here presumably by the great fight.

The trend of public conversation these days smacks of prize fights, scientific glove contests, the governor, "will he do it dare he do it?" etc., etc. Public sentiment for and against the fight seems to be about evenly divided. If anything, in this gladiatorial combat is depending upon me, I must confess that I am having a difficult time in getting the two pugs together. An ordinary man, however, would have thrown up the sponge long ago. Though the day set for the great international contest is near at hand, the question whether it is to be or not has not been in the minds of the multitude. Attorney General Lamar recently sent a very strong letter to the Chicago Inter-Ocean in which he declares and forcibly to the effect that the affair will not come off. On the evening of Jan. 8, to offset the dampening influence of the attorney's letter, the Duluth Athletic Club gave out to the press a statement to the effect that the fight will positively come off. But while the club takes very strong grounds its statement is a very weak one when compared with Attorney General Lamar's. However, the sporting fraternity yesterday morning was very forthcoming and every way confident that the fight will come off on schedule time, though, perhaps, not in the great amphitheater now being erected in the east end of the city.

The state's chief executive at first looked with very little, if any, disfavor upon the proposed match, but lately and especially since the arrival in Florida of Mitchell and Corbett, there has been much injudicious talking, and the governor is up in arms. Had a golden silence been maintained by the executive solicitude for his fair but impetuous state would not now be so great. He has been rubbed the wrong way and is now perched on a lofty pedestal of sublime dignity, fully determined not to come down and to do his worst, or best, be that as it may. A small army of Northern newspaper men have also harnessed "the cause" since their arrival by too much long-distance heavyweight lying. Knowing, however, that the governor is almost powerless to prevent the holding of the fight outside the city, the Duluth club is determined that shall come off—if not in Jacksonville, then at some point removed from the city. There is little doubt that all who come here to make companions of the roses, listen to the song of birds, bask in the golden sunshine, heat tortured lungs your incidentally, to see the fight, will return in every way satisfied.

I see the New York newspapers state that visitors are flocking to Jacksonville and that the ravenous hotel keeper is already getting in his work by bleeding the newcomers. But this is not true. In fact, the hotels here are doing less business now than they were last year at this time and, in some instances, are losing money. There are many who would come to Florida, immediately were there a contest assured fact, but who will not come here at all should the match not come off. On the other hand there are many regular winter tourists, who draw a crush and are awaiting the issue of the controversy between the governor and the club. The hotel and business men have been between two fires and many of them wish the fight given over in a hotter place than this.

At the darkest moment the clouds began to shift and what only yesterday seemed an altogether irremediable muddle, bids fair to materialize into one of the most clever scientific glove tests the world has ever seen. Corbett and Mitchell are in excellent condition and both mean business, but in my opinion it is two to one that the American boy wins.

Hon. Wayne McVeagh and Senator W. D. Washburn were here with their families a short time since, but I did not prevail upon them to remain for the fight. But my space is gone, I will stop. My letter leaves me scented with the aroma of orange blossoms, white roses, meadow stars and daisies. It also contains a sample piece of the finest winter that ever laid out of doors. Cross it with your Duluth weather and you have what of a product you get. E. J. HART.

HIS SKULL WAS CRUSHED.
Gust Maske Killed by a Limb Falling on His Head.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Jan. 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—Gust Maske, a Finlander, while engaged in chopping at Saunders' camp, eighteen miles north of here, met with a fatal accident. A limb fell on his head crushing it and breaking the skull in two places. He lived long enough to be brought here, but did not regain consciousness. He has some relatives in Wisconsin. He will be buried here at Saunders' expense.

We are feeling the effects of the shut-down of the mines. Three firms closed this week. Culbertson & Richardson made an announcement that they were closing. Liabilities, $2500; assets, unknown. Ole Hager's saloon was closed by an attachment put on by Joe Griffith for a beer bill. Joe Mattison's saloon is closed up. "No business."

FORGED POSTAL ORDERS.
Two Orders for $100 Each Were Paid by the Blooming Office.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 13.—The Blooming postoffice on Jan. 10 paid two postal orders for $100 each, purporting to have been issued at Norris-town Heights, Contra Costa Co., Cal. The man purporting to be Clarke was unknown here but identification of payee was waived in red ink on orders and addressed to the postoffice.

It transpires that a few days ago the postoffice at Norris-town Heights was robbed of a blank of postal orders and every way confident that the fight will come off on schedule time, though, perhaps, not in the great amphitheater now being erected in the east end of the city.

The state's chief executive at first looked with very little, if any, disfavor upon the proposed match, but lately and especially since the arrival in Florida of Mitchell and Corbett, there has been much injudicious talking, and the governor is up in arms. Had a golden silence been maintained by the executive solicitude for his fair but impetuous state would not now be so great. He has been rubbed the wrong way and is now perched on a lofty pedestal of sublime dignity, fully determined not to

FOR ELECTION FRAUDS.
BROOKLYN, Jan. 13.—The argument upon the demurrers to the indictments against John V. McKane and twenty-one others for alleged election frauds committed in Gravesend during the last election, was finished yesterday afternoon. Justice Bartlett decided against every motion. The indicted men were then called upon to plead, each answering "not guilty." The day for trial was set for Jan. 22.

MURDER NOW CHARGED.
NEWCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 13.—The city officials claim to have evidence that Miss Aida Robinson's child, which was burned in a cooking stove on New Year's eve day was born alive, and in addition to the charges, that of murder has been preferred against Professor Hartshorn and Dr. Campbell, who is also implicated. It is believed that Dr. Campbell is in Ohio.

A Bank to Resume.
MILWAUKEE, Jan. 13.—Officials and attorneys for the Marine bank were engaged at the court house yesterday in making the preparations for the resumption of that institution next Monday morning.

Muscle and Vigor—A Difference.
Many muscular men succumb to fatigue borne with ease by persons far their inferiors in physical strength. Muscle does not mean vigor. In fact it is not difficult of proof that athletes do not live as long nor enjoy as good health as the average individual who is vigorous—that is to say, whose digestion and sleep are unimpaired, whose nerves are tranquil, and who has no organic tendency to disease. These requisites of vigor are conferred upon those inherently weak, no less than upon those debilitated through wasting disease, by a thorough, persistent course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading national tonic, endorsed and recommended by physicians of eminence. It will not enervate you, or weaken the muscles of a Corbett, but it will infuse energy into your system and renew the active and healthful performance of its functions. It averts and cures malarial, rheumatic and kidney complaints, and overcomes dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and nervousness.

AN UPRISING FEARED

Great Religious Uprising on the Part of Indians in Mexico Said to Be Threatened.

Due to a Worm Eaten Leaf With a Tracing Similar to the Virgin of Guadalupe.

It Was Found by an Indian and When a Mexican Hit It He Was Inflamed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—A Tribune special from the City of Mexico says: A great religious uprising is threatened at Lecheria and already $700,000 worth of property has been destroyed. An Indian working on the hacienda de Lecheria found a maguay leaf that had been worm-eaten until it contained a tracing which, to the Indian, appeared to be a reproduction of the virgin of Guadalupe.

Filled with a holy joy he prostrated himself before the plant to worship the picture, and then hastened to the master of the hacienda to tell him the great mark of favor bestowed upon him from heaven. The master, Senor H. Pimental, came and looked at it, contemptuously remarking that any worm could eat out as good a picture as that. He then snapped it with his cane and left.

The Indian was infuriated. That night the hacienda and 1000 bales of cotton were burned, and the incendiaries have been traced to the Indian. The other Indians were aroused over the supposed indignity, and have all assembled and are holding a great feast.

A petition has been sent to the cathedral in this city, asking that a prelate be sent to examine the picture, but it is feared that before he can arrive and disabuse the Indians of their superstition a serious uprising will occur.

Low Rates to the Fight.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 13.—The Memphis road has arranged for a low round-trip rate from this point to Jacksonville, on account of the Corbett-Mitchell battle, and has engaged several Pullman sleeping cars to run through to Jacksonville without change via Memphis and Atlanta. This would indicate that the railroad people have been given inside information and assurance as to the big fight, otherwise they likely would not incur this expense.

Fire at Galtysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 12.—A fire that threatened to destroy the northern portion of the town, started in the stables of the Eagle hotel at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and fanned by a high wind it spread to the hotel and its annex, both of which were entirely gutted. It was necessary to send to Hagerstown and Hanover for aid before the fire was gotten under control. The loss will reach $25,000; insurance, $16,000.

Rockettello Sentenced.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 13.—Ex-Banker F. A. Rockettello, recently convicted of embezzlement, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Lynch to two years and two months imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1200. There are eighteen other indictments against him.

Will Back Griffo.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Alvin Culbertson has offered to back Alfred Griffiths, better known as "Young Griffo," the young Australian, against any man in the world for any sum up to $20,000. To O'Rourke, George Dixon's manager, has taken Culbertson's offer.

A FREE TEST.

All Arguments Have Been Overthrown.

The Heartick and Hopeless Can Try Without Cost.

For Them the Liberal Offer is Especially Made.

To enable the public to obtain some practical idea of the Copeland system of disease treatment, and to demonstrate its superiority to other methods, the Copeland physicians announce a free test treatment to all sufferers from catarrh or other curable chronic maladies. All who apply in person will be examined, advised and treated upon their first visit absolutely free of charge. Remember, that, in addition to a free treatment, all who apply will receive the benefits of thorough professional consultation and advice without a penny's expense. This is a test which the patient can make use of absolutely free of cost for examination, first treatment, consultation and advice.

It is claimed by many that it ought not to be long a matter of successful treatment in this city, to offer a free trial treatment to convince the people of its skill and ability to cure disease. As a matter of fact, it is not necessary, but the Copeland physicians, who are not because of their immense practice they charge exorbitant fees, but to obtain successful results they must use very liberal methods. Such generous offer. Added to this has been the testimony of hundreds of residents of Duluth, who have been cured of their chronic diseases. The testimony of such men as Dr. Easton who has practiced medicine for over half a century, and Dr. Robertson, the Lincoln exchange, and the fact that the Copeland physicians, who are not because of their immense practice they charge exorbitant fees, but to obtain successful results they must use very liberal methods. The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 13.—The barometer is highest in Eastern Tennessee. It is also high in Wyoming, with a steep gradient thence northward to the region of Montana, where a disturbance of considerable energy has remained nearly stationary since yesterday.
The temperature, which is above zero at all reporting stations, has generally risen during the past twenty-four hours. It is considerably above the normal for the season at all stations westward to the Rocky mountains, from Wisconsin northward to Manitoba. It has risen 10 to 20 degrees since yesterday morning. The weather is fair in all districts.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 25° below zero; maximum during past twenty-four hours, 27 degrees; minimum, recorded yesterday morning, zero.

DULUTH, Jan. 13.—Local forecast until 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, continued warm weather this evening and tonight; westerly winds; light sunlight evening.

Lake Passenger Travel.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin refers to the launch of the North West as the inauguration of a new era of passenger travel on the great lakes. Years ago passenger travel on the lakes was quite large, but with the increased railroad mileage and the improvement in the train service, both in equipment and quick time, the water routes lost favor and passenger travel on the lakes dwindled into insignificance.

One reason for this—and perhaps the chief reason—was the lack of enterprise shown by the steamship companies engaged in passenger travel. They did not keep pace with the improved conditions of travel on land. They retained their old boats, slow and poorly equipped, and made no effort to offer facilities that would attract travel. They were also niggardly in their advertising. With the exception of one line they did not announce in the newspapers even the time of departure and arrival of their vessels. Frequently The Herald received during the summer letters from people in Minnesota and the Dakotas inquiring as to the dates on which passenger boats left this city. "I cannot find any advertisement of these boats in the Duluth papers" was a common expression.

It is not strange, therefore, that passenger travel on the lakes has fallen away in late years, nor will it be surprising if the Northern Steamship company shall bring back the old time activity in the passenger business. Their boats will be the finest steel steamers ever put afloat on fresh water and the equipment will be superb. If first-class accommodations and a liberal policy will win, this new line will be a great success.

A Sound Principle.
The high court of justice in England gave a decision recently in a case of considerable importance to newspapers.
The London Times published an editorial article denouncing dishonest auctions, that is auctions at which a clique of dishonest men buys articles at prices far below their value, by running up to far above its value any article that an outsider may try to buy. A dealer in second hand books, who was in the business of buying libraries and other collections of books, printed upon his business circular what purported to be an extract from the Times' article. But, by omitting a portion of the Times' remarks, made it seem that the Times had denounced all auctions as dishonest, and in general as a ruinous way of disposing of goods.

Indignant auctioneers called the attention of the Times to it and it seemed to have said, and the Times brought suit for a perpetual injunction against the book dealer to prevent further publication of the garbled extract. The court granted the prayer and condemned the book dealer to pay costs, which were not light in an English chancery case. In rendering the decision the court said:
"The Times itself has the right to say,
'you shall not publish our article, either wholly, partially, or by way of summary, or by way of extract, otherwise than fairly, if you depart from that, and, still more, if, departing from the fair summary, you give an entirely different color to our article, then you are saying that we have said something which we have not, and that you have no right to do." This is a decision in the interest of honesty and fairness and it upholds a principle that should obtain more generally in this country. The Herald has on several occasions been outrageously misrepresented by garbled extracts from its editorial columns being published by its opponents, who only resource in criticism or controversy appears to be some underhand and despicable trick of this kind.

As if he had not enough to worry him, Chancellor Capri, of Germany, is going to worry with the silver question. He has promised to hear the "proposals of experts and theorists in the various professions and trades for raising the silver value of silver." If they are as long-winded as Stewart, of Nevada, and Allen, of Nebraska, he has a life job mapped out.

Cut Flowers at a Premium.
A condition of affairs believed to be unprecedented in the history of congress exists in relation to the committee on library of the house of representatives. This is a standing committee consisting of three members and it has the right, among other things, to appoint among members orders for cut flowers from the government botanical gardens.

The members of the committee were named last August by Speaker Crisp, when the other committees were appointed, but today the committee is appointed in relation to the committee with membership, all who were appointed until last August having ceased to be members of the house. The chairman John R. Fellows, resigned to accept the position of district attorney of New York; the second member, Hon. Charles T. O'Farrell, resigned to become the governor of Virginia. The third member, Hon. Charles O'Neill, of Pennsylvania, died on Nov. 23.

Mr. O'Neill's successor, Robert Adams Jr., was sworn in as a member of the house on Jan. 3, but has not been appointed for committee service. Representative William A. Jones, of Virginia, has been appointed a member of the committee on elections to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles O'Farrell, but the committee on library is still without members and orders for cut flowers are said to be at a premium.

A merchant in Rochester, N. Y., discharged his clerk the other day because the youth would insist on wearing a boutanniere on the back of his coat between his shoulder-blades. The young man offered no excuse for his eccentricity, but it was supposed he wanted to impress on his employer the fact that a free American citizen had the right to wear flowers wherever he wanted. At the same time he demonstrated what a fool a callow youth can be.

The Engineering and Mining Review, published in Duluth, has been revived, and the first number of the second volume has just been issued. A. H. Hooper is editor and J. D. Wade business manager. It presents a good appearance and with the growth of the iron ore industry and the manufacture of iron and steel at the head of Lake Superior it should prove successful.

Alfred John Monson, who was recently tried in Edinburgh for murder and discharged on the Scotch verdict of "not proven," is going to give a series of lectures, and many of those who applauded the verdict now think there was some mistake.

St. Charles Dilke defines a "jingotist" as an "exaggerated patriot." There are so many who lack patriotism, however, that no country will suffer from having a few with an excess of that article.

The Milaca County Times says:
"There seems to be considerable opposition to Senator Washburn cropping out in the rural districts. It has already cropped out in the cities."

Whenever Chicago gets a new mayor he closes the gambling houses. Then the proprietors go around to the city hall and reach an understanding and business is resumed.

The best thing that congress can do with Hawaii is to let it alone. Let the people of Hawaii govern themselves.
They are capable of doing it without any assistance.

dent Cleveland—Hawaii, Hornblower,

A Serious Joke.
St. Cloud Journal-Press: Eight years ago Tom Bowen, who then edited the Sleepy Eye Herald, a strong Democratic paper, brought out Bobbier of the New Ulm Review, as Republican candidate for state treasurer. This was of course a joke. Bowen's part, but he construed the Republican papers of that section took up the idea, which resulted in Bobbier's nomination and election.

The Supreme Test.
Kansas City Star: "The reporter," says one of the bright and eloquent members of the Federation of Women's Philanthropic Societies, "has not a philosophical mind." It is presumed that this lady has not seen a reporter at the moment of receiving an assignment to report a meeting of women for charitable, literary or other work.

Against Their Interests.
Minneapolis Journal: Congressmen Baldwin, the Democratic representative from the Sixth district, is a man after the Tribune's own heart. He strongly favors free iron ore against the interests of his own constituents.

Hatter's Discovery.
London Globe: "Head's grown sir," observed my hatter one day to me, manipulating the interior of my topper with his foot and having it all right. "I tried everything that was recommended, but never was cured until a year ago, when My Mother-in-Law pounded me to try one of these bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am glad to say that I have not had such headaches since I took the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done me a great deal of good in the headache, and I have increased my weight from 122 to 147 pounds. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough." Mrs. Ed. Swan, Danville, Ill.

Reason in His Faith.
Washington Star: "Have you any faith in patent medicines?" asked the man who never feels well.
"I should say I have," replied the man who bustles. "Quickest means in the world for getting rich."
